TREASON CHARGED IN TRIAL

VIENNA, Aug. 8.—Nine members of the Vienna police force went on trial for their lives today before a court martial, charged with high treason for participation in a raid in the chancellery July 25 which resulted in the assassination of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss.

Seven of the men who may go to the gallows before the day is over are married. One of them is an inspector and two are surgeons.

The government placed its campaign against Nazis in the hands of Major Emil Fey.

UNDER ORDERS

Fey, who performed yeoman service for the late Chancellor Dollfuss in the suppression of Socialists last winter, is under orders to wipe out Nazis influence. To achieve this end he is given sweeping powers, including the right to discharge private employees suspected of Nazi sympathies.

The fourth Nazi to die on the gallows since the drive opened a few weeks ago was hanged yesterday. Ernest Feike, a soldier, went to his death for participating in the putsch in which Dollfuss was assassinated.

DAVISON SAYS RELIEF ON WAY

CALGARY, Aug. 8.—The journey of Mayor Andrew Davison to Ottawa where he was an "onlooker" during the federal-provincial relief conference was not in vain.

Returning to Calgary today, Mayor Davison was hopeful the city would obtain a federal loan of $250,000 to carry on a relief works program, and announced the Dominion government would spend another $150,000 on river protection.

Construction will start shortly on the South Calgary Barracks, a $1,200,000 relief project which will give work to many city residents, while 600 unemployed married men will obtain employment on the Lake Louise-Jasper highway.

OTTAWA RULES STOP STEVENS PAYING COSTS

Minister's Explanation Here Not Highly Credited in Ottawa

By THOS. WAYLING
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 8.—The assertion made in Edmonton by Hon. H. H. Stevens, that the "sweatshop" speech was not printed by the King's printer and that he paid for this mimeographing is not carrying much weight in Ottawa.

It now develops there were two "run-offs" the original copy of the speech was mimeographed and circulated to the Conservative study club, but wider circulation was decided upon and it was handed over to the printing department of the bureau of statistics and 4,000 copies ordered.

The bureau of statistics is just as much a government department as the King's printer. It is understood that Mr. Stevens himself revised the original study club draft because the later copy is amplified still further.

Mr. Stevens would not be permitted to pay for the 4,000 copies he ordered for the bureau of sta-

By "BILL" BARNES
Bulletin Staff Writer

STORM HALTS MURDER CASE AT BEAR LAKE

CAMERON BAY, N.W.T., Aug. 8.—A terrific storm of rain and sleet today was enveloping a 1,000-mile radius in the Coronation Gulf area on the Arctic Ocean, halting food supply boats and preventing departure of a judicial party to hold a murder trial at Coppermine, on Coronation Gulf.

Word of the storm, coming as a climax to bad weather conditions of the past week, was received by radio station here. Several lesser storms are whipping the Great Bear lake area. The Arctic shore gale was reported to have reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour. Planes were grounded.

Pilot Walter Gilbert, tied up here several days, was able to make a flight yesterday in poor conditions to Contact Lake, where mining camps are located. He reported weather conditions had, with some snow falling.

Edmonton Wrestler Easily Takes Open Bout From Gudgeon, Scotland

WEMBLEY, England, Aug. 8.—Maxie Berger, Montreal flyweight, qualified for the final in his division at the British Empire Games boxing championships tonight by outpointing Pottinger of Wales. Only four were entered in the division and Berger's first fight was a semi-final.

WEMBLEY, Eng., Aug. 8.—Canada started her defence of wrestling supremacy at the British Empire Games today by winning all five first-round engagements when Pat Meehan won every mat title at the 1930 games in Hamilton, Ontario.

In the same arena where Canadian swimmers finished a conquest of the Empire last night, the wrestlers opened their two-day meet to decide championships in seven divisions. The swimming pool had been covered over and a ring erected over it.

COUNTRY MAY MAKE PROFIT FROM WHEAT

Reported $14,000,000 Gain by Dominion Not Confirmed by Bennett

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—Parliament Hill was buzzing Tuesday with the query, How much does the Dominion stand to make as a result of its operations to steady the wheat market. Known to have bought and sold, and in fact be still holding great quantities of wheat, the upward swing in prices which reached such impressive proportions Tuesday naturally brings particular gladness to the government.

When John I. McFarland, the man who handles the operations for the government in the Winnipeg pit, left last week The report got around in official circles he was ahead about $14,000,000 and this figure has jumped more than four cents a bushel since then. Whether Mr. McFarland was responsible for this report could not be ascertained. Much of the wheat is still held by the government.

Premier R. B. Bennett declined to confirm any such figures. "You should never count your profits until you have sold your goods," was his sage reply when the $14,000,000 was suggested to him.

STEVENS BLAMES MARKET LOSS IN CANADA TO FEAR

MINISTERS GET CAUSTIC OVER STEVENS COUP

By THOMAS WAYLING
Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 8.—If Mr. Stevens is psychic, his ears must have burned yesterday afternoon. The "sweatshop" booklet came up for discussion in cabinet, and some of the ministers were caustic about the unwisdom of its publication and circulation.

At least three of the industries mentioned by Mr. Stevens in his speech did not come up for public hearing before the parliamentary committee. General Steelwares, Canada Biscuit and the Pulp and Paper Industry were investigated by the committee investigators but the stage had not been reached at which their cases came up for public hearing.

The discussion in the cabinet yesterday was informal and no action was taken. The officials of the bureau of statistics have been given a clean bill, the evidence indicating that they had not acted on their own responsibility but on instructions from the minister's office.

Fear, not tariff policies of Liberal or Conservative governments, closed the markets of the world to Canadian products.

Intense nationalism spurred nations to policies of self-sustenance which resulted in curtailed exports from the great exporting nations, and Canada as well as other nations suffered, stated Hon. H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce, addressing a mass meeting at the Memorial Hall Tuesday evening.

France, Germany and other European nations subsidized their farmers to produce wheat with the result that France normally an importing country of 30,000,000 bushels a year became an exporting country sending 40,000,000 bushels to the world's markets.

This situation, stated Mr. Stevens, faced the Bennett government when it assumed office. Wheat exports and prices had toppled, world markets were closed, and it was necessary to find markets for Canadian goods outside the European and Asiatic nations.

Mr. Stevens was emphatic that blame for the loss of European markets could not be placed on the Liberal government, although he quoted a long string of figures to show that most of the tariffs which prohibited the free flow of Canadian products to these markets had been imposed while Liberals were in power at Ottawa. He was also emphatic that the claims that the tariff policies of the Conservative govern-

EX-ALBERTAN SEES FORTUNE BY AUNT'S AID

John F. Gallagher Leaves For England to Claim $500,000

TORONTO, Aug. 8.—John F. Gallagher, convicted in 1922 of the murder of John G. Coward in Alberta, sentenced to be hanged and later acquitted, left Tuesday for England to claim $500,000 which an aunt has left him if he settles down and marries before Dec. 25, 1938.

Gallagher, who has been living in Toronto during the last three months, under an assumed name, is the central figure of arson which his home in Alberta was destroyed by fire. He had $1,700 insurance on the building. Sentenced to life imprisonment, he appealed and sentence was judged excessive. It was reduced to 10 years and he served the term in full.

A former member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Gallagher served in the British regular army in India and in the artillery during the war.

Gallagher plans to use a portion of the fortune he will receive in England in an effort to establish his innocence of the arson charge and bring to justice the murderers of Coward and of Joe Duffy, friends and neighbors in Carbon, Alberta, both of whom were killed within a year. Gallagher said he would be married by Christmas Day, 1938, but did not have anyone in view.

SEARING SUN HITS MID-U.S.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Scorching temperatures burned again today the mid-continent of the United States, already hard hit by heat waves and drought. The new heat wave extends from the Rocky mountains to the Appalachian highlands, and southward into the gulf states, further damaging crops in sections that have been suffering all summer.

Temperature readings of 100 degrees or more are common throughout the stricken area. Hot winds in some parts aggravate the situation, particularly in Missouri, which with Kansas is among the sections hardest hit.

Kansas City had an official high of 108 degrees yesterday, St. Louis and Wichita had 104, Springfield, Mo. and Oklahoma City, 102, Springfield, Ill., 104, and Concordia, Kansas, 108. Four deaths were attributed to the heat in Missouri where many readings above 100 degrees were reported. Rain, however, fell in parts of Utah, Nebraska and North Dakota.

WHEAT EXPORTS FROM PACIFIC COAST TO STOP

U.S. GOVERNMENT FEARS SHORTAGE AS SUPPLY DROPS

States Will Stop Exporting 15,000,000 Under Total Allowed in International Agreement.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. — The farm administration plans to stop exporting wheat from the Pacific northwest because of the rapidly diminishing supply in the United States.

To date, 28,000,000 bushels have been sold abroad by the North Pacific Emergency Export Association. Their operations soon will be stopped and remaining and prospective stocks shunted into domestic channels.

America's export quota under the international wheat agreement is 47,000,000 bushels. The total exported thus far is about 32,000,000 bushels and very little more will leave the country.

Official figures on the wheat supply from the far western area were not available at the administration, but unofficial estimates placed the total at 113,000,000 bushels. The North Pacific Emergency Export Association, a government sponsored agency, has been in northwest's vernacular, a man abroad since last Oct. 11. It has disposed of most of its purchases in the Orient.

WOMEN'S LEGS NOT ALIKE: U.S. ORDER SCORED

Change in Hosiery Length Held Vital If All Legs Are to be Fitted

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. — All women's legs, if you please, are not of the same shape and size.

Women take just as much pride in their hose as they do in the care of their face and hair and most of them would prefer being seen in public with a smudge of grease on their cheeks than a runner or a heel-hole in their stocking.

But when the federal bureau of standards actually decrees in effect that all female legs are the same and advises the stocking manufacturers that thirty inches of silk is sufficient in a stocking, the women say the bureau's scientists are talking nonsense. They say this through the General Federation of Women's clubs.

WOMAN PROTESTS

"Why don't they listen to reason or observe some common sense?" one indigent club member queried. "Anybody knows the same stocking that properly fits the circus short fat woman will not fit the tall and skinny girl of ninety-five pounds."

The federation suggests that women's stockings be made in three lengths, ranging from twenty-five to thirty-two inches of silk. Such leeway, the members said, would take care of the shorts and talls, the fats and leans and the straight-legged and the bow-legged.

Nothing Wrong In Papers Publishing Dionne Babe Photos

CHICAGO, Aug. 8—A suit for $100,000 damage and a petition for an injunction to halt publication of pictures of the Dionne quintuplets of Callander, Ont., were thrown out of court today by Judge Joseph B. David.

The court action was taken by Ivan I. Spear, who operates the Century of Progress Tour Bureau at the world's fair. He named as defendants Ovila Dionne, father of the quintuplets, the Chicago Times Company and a news photograph syndicate.

The bill claimed that on May 31 Dionne signed a contract with the Tour Bureau to come to Chicago with his family for exhibition and that as physicians would permit the trip, and that the contract also granted the Tour Bureau the right to handle all publicity.

Judge David held that the quintuplets were news and that there was nothing wrong in any newspaper publishing pictures of them.

Tornado Carries Woman 30 Feet

COLUMBUS, Kan., Aug. 8.—While some people may scoff at tornadoes, Mrs. Ed. Gerow, in deep respect for these forms of atmospheric disturbances and hereafter will give them as wide a berth as possible.

Walking along a railroad right-of-way here, she was picked up by a small twister, carried about thirty feet and dropped. She was cited for her experience than the wear and tear on her nerves and some slight bruises. Gerow contended that the two bystanders who witnessed her "flight" but who were not caught by the wind.

Boy Makes Money From Swollen Head

ROCHESTER, Minn., Aug. 8.—A shrewd young businessman is 8-year-old Thomas McClure, who has shown the world how a combination of poison ivy and a swelled head can be made a source of revenue.

Thomas acquired an unusually bad case of ivy poisoning which swelled his features and lifted to swell to remarkable proportions. But did his affliction get him down? It did not.

The young Barnum went into a room by himself and then charged relatives, friends and acquaintances 5 cents a look to see him.

He had amassed a tidy sum yesterday and figures to clean up in the next few days if the poison ivy will just stick along with him.

'Sap' From Cob Pipe Kills Rattlesnake

GRASS RANGE, Mont., Aug. 8—For one year now Byron Gillette has looked longingly at his corn cob pipe—and refused to smoke it.

Gillette extracted some "sap" from his pipe, fed it to a captive rattlesnake. The snake turned a few long-the-loops, writhed into a "figure 8"—and died.

The pipe has remained untouched ever since.

HINDENBURG LIES IN STATE

Here is the first radio picture showing Paul von Hindenburg, late president of Germany, lying in flowery state and guarded by crack soldiers of the Reichswehr in his East Prussian home at Neudeck, where the 86-year-old war hero general succumbed after a long illness. The body was taken to Tannenberg where funeral rites were conducted, and where burial will be made this week.

Utmost Secrecy Surrounds Plan Of War Officer

Romance May Get Blessing

Again a woman's smile may change the destiny of Europe. Rumors from diplomatic circles suggest that Princess Maria, daughter of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, may wed Archduke Otto, pretender to the Austrian throne. The marriage would insure Otto of Italy's support in restoration of the Austrian monarchy.

Sir Maurice

Sir Maurice Hankey, Defence Secretary, to Visit S. Africa, Australia, Canada, Important Mission.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—"A confidential mission of the highest importance connected with the defence of the Empire" is being undertaken by Sir Maurice Hankey, secretary of the Imperial defence committee and of the cabinet, according to the Daily Herald.

It was announced Tuesday Sir Maurice is leaving for Australia on Aug. 10 to attend the Victoria centenary celebrations and on the way will spend some time in Cape Town, S. Africa, Lady Hankey's former home.

Describing the centenary celebration as the ostensible purpose of the visit the Herald says the utmost secrecy is being observed with regard to the real object. It says that in addition to South Africa and Australia Sir Maurice will visit New Zealand and Canada to discuss with experts on the spot vital matters of military, naval and air strategy.

The paper further suggests these questions are connected with "defence problems arising out of the new turn of British policy resulting from the reciprocal visits of General Maxime Weygand (chief of the French general staff) and Lord Hailsham (British minister of war) also the new line of defence of the empire in view of the outlook for the Far East and Australia which the Herald describes as "gloomier than ever."

Sir Maurice's intention to visit Canada and New Zealand is also mentioned by the Daily Mail and the Daily Express. The Mail's political correspondent says he will take advantage of his trip to make a study regarding the various empire governments on behalf of the cabinet and adds it is understood important questions of imperial policy, particularly with regard to defence, will likely be discussed.

It was stated some time ago that Sir Maurice would advise Australia on defence matters during his visit.

EX-ALBERTAN OFFERED BIG SUM BY AUNT

in the Peerless mine at Carbon where later he was joined by John G. Coward.

According to the stories told here, Gallagher quarrelled with his partner after getting suspicions that his controlling interest was threatened and a few nights later, Coward was shot in his car in the flats just outside the city. The suspicion fell on Gallagher who, within a short time, was arrested and charged with the murder.

Found guilty, he was sentenced to be hanged but his lawyer fought for, and obtained a new trial which resulted in his dismissal.

Two years later, Gallagher was associating with one, Jess Fuller, the two men allegedly being in the bootlegging racket. Four months later Fuller was found dead, mysteriously shot and again Gallagher was suspected but on this occasion the necessary evidence to fix guilt was missing. A short time later Gallagher's home went up in flames. Police viewing Gallagher as a menace, kept him under surveillance and later traced many of his personal belongings to caches within a stones-throw of the destroyed structure. It was believed that Gallagher's house-keeper gave the original tip which led to the arrest and subsequent conviction of the fire-bug who received a ten-year stretch in Prince Albert penitentiary

"Sammy" Campbell Had Reason For Missing Tourney

S. H. "Sammy" Campbell, usually there or thereabouts when a golf tournament is in progress, was missing from the line-up when the recent championships were being played in the city. There's a reason.

Sam was all dressed up at the first tee, with his club heads polished, his golf balls new, when he got the word to drive off on Saturday morning when a caddy pounded up and breathlessly announced that Mr. Campbell was wanted on the telephone. And Mr. Campbell went, because he'd been expecting a call for some days, and this was the call.

All the doctor told him over the telephone was that he had just become the father of an eight and one half pound boy. That was as far as Mr. Campbell went in the tournament at Mr. Sam's even been back yet to collect his clubs.

And that's not all. Since Saturday Mr. Campbell has been in a huddle with his friends. He wants to get a line-up of names that will give the "young fellow" a set of initials like P.P.C.L.I. Campbell, and he's open to any and all suggestions. Of course Mrs. Campbell will have something to say in the matter too and the chances are that it will end up with the new arrival named Sammie Junior.

NEW WEATHER FORECASTS FOR FUTURE PLANES

Long - Range Predictions Being Developed For Use at Higher Altitudes

PASADENA, Calif., Aug. 8.—Airplanes with sealed cabins. Flying—within a few years—at altitudes of more than 20,000 feet and at speeds heretofore unknown. Will require meteorologists to make long - range weather predictions which are now being developed by the air mass analysis method now coming into vogue.

W. H. Clover, chief meteorologist for TWA, Inc., was the authority for this statement, in which other authorities on weather forecasting meeting at the California Institute of Technology concurred.

Modern transport planes now fly most efficiently at an altitude of 14,000 feet, but within a year, according to Clover, this will be raised to 18,000 feet, and when sealed-cabin ships are placed in general operation, they will operate efficiently above the 20,000-foot level.

With increased flying heights will come longer runs, Clover said. Whereas TWA pilots now fly approximately 800 miles before being relieved, this will soon be raised to 1,200 to 1,300 miles—not because the pilot will work longer but because he will cover more ground.

This all means that a rapid development in the air mass system of weather forecasting may be expected, entailing accurate observations in the upper air, as well as on the ground.

tistics which has no right to accept money for any but official publications, and most of the "handouts" are free. Mr. Stevens has still to explain how, if he paid for it, government translators were used to translate it into French. The incident recalls the famous "creed" published by Mr. Stevens some years ago at public expense which was alleged on the floor of the house to be protectionist propaganda.

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—Government officials had a problem on their hands Tuesday—what to do with the 3,000 copies of the Stevens mass buying booklet suddenly withdrawn from circulation over the week-end. The edition originally was ordered by Hon. H. H. Stevens.

While there was no indication how many copies Mr. Stevens ordered, it was planned, it is said, to print 4,000 copies but only 3,000 had been mimeographed when the stop order was sent out by Premier R. B. Bennett.

INJURED FACES CAN BE REBUILT

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8—Persons whose faces are disfigured by disease or accidents no longer need live the remainder of their lives in horror of being seen in public.

Almost entirely new faces can now be "manufactured" by surgeons, according to Drs. Gordon B. New and Frederick A. Fisi, of Rochester, Minn. The doctors described the operations to members of the American Medical association during the annual session of that group here.

Operations to renovate faces are now performed after the manner of sewing bone, cartilege and mucous membrane, or following the removal of tumors, are performed.

Artificial plates are inserted in the cheek bones, jaw bones and noses are fashioned after models of props, and skin and bone are borrowed from other parts of the body to be grafted to the face.

Squatter Captures Snakes For Living

GRAND COULEE, Wash., Aug. 8—From parachute jumping in circus balloons to catching rattlesnakes for a living is the story of "Rattlesnake" Smith, squatter near the 63 million dollar Coulee dam.

Smith scorns houses; sleeps on a blanket tossed between chaparel bushes. In his days of combing the Grand Coulee hills, Smith has trapped more than 800 rattlers with a forked stick.

Every day he makes into neckties, belts or other curios.

Dangerous as the rattlers may be, Smith says he's been bitten only twice. "The snakes aren't dangerous. I see thousands of 'em every day and I only get a real close strike at me."

His record catch was near Grand Coulee town when he got 36 in two hours' time. The largest was four feet, nine inches long and had four-teen rattles. The smallest had heard of rattlers with 34 rattles.

Smith started his aerial career at the age of 16 when he joined a circus balloon trip. Later he became known as "Daredevil" Smith for his parachute jumping in 1890 at county fairs.

Whirlwind Brings Chickens To Farm

FLOYDADA, Texas, Aug. 8—A whirlwind brought K. L. Campbell, farmer near Floydada, two chickens.

Campbell, who had no chickens on his farm, found two walking around after a whirlwind passed. One of them died from injuries. He has named the survivor Cyclone Bill.

It was just another prank of Panhandle wind.

win his first victory in the featherweight division. The Montrealer had the edge all the way and finally pinned his rival with a body press.

SCOT NO MATCH

Joe Schleimer of Toronto required only four minutes in which to dispose of Allwood of Scotland in the welterweight class. The Canadian was all over the Scot from the start, finally gaining the fall with a half-Nelson. Terry Evans, Toronto middleweight, eliminated Bissell of England with a fall in eight minutes, 27 seconds.

Bissell gave Evans a hard battle but the Canadian was the aggressor. At the end of the first six-minute round Evans led on points.

Pat Meehan of Edmonton opened his heavyweight campaign by throwing Gudgeon of Scotland in 10 minutes, 43 seconds, with a back-heel. The Albertan was stronger and more polished, easily handling his foe, but it took nearly two rounds for Meehan to find this opening.

Howie Thomas of Montreal, 1930 empire champion from Montreal and the only defender, got a bye in the first round of the lightweight class.

TEMPERATURES TOO HOT, PUTS ICE ON EGGS

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 8—C. T. Patterson, poultry show judge, who operates a large poultry farm here, is putting ice in his incubators to make certain that 1,000 eggs he has incubating will hatch.

Patterson said that the unusual heat outside the incubator sends the temperature too high inside the huge box and it is impossible to make it cooler, resulting in the decision to put large cakes of ice in the electric incubators.

Stevens Declines To Be Interviewed

JASPER, Alta., Aug. 8.—Hon. H. H. Stevens declined to be interviewed today when approached at Jasper. He asked to be excused on the plea of his strenuous program of the past few days. Vancouver reporters arrived in Jasper this noon and will endeavor to get an interview with Mr. Stevens to the coast city.

FLIERS START NON-STOP HOP FROM TORONTO

Flight Over Atlantic to Bagdad in Mollison Plane Starts

the flight generally were favorable with indications of fair winds across the Atlantic. Showers were reported from the European side, he said, but visibility was considered moderately good over the route.

The fliers' napped course would take them over Montreal, Quebec, the south shore of the St. Lawrence on the Gaspe, then the north shore, and from there over Anticosti Island. Then they would follow the Straits of Belle Isle, passing over the island itself off the Newfoundland coast, before striking out for northern Ireland.

On the European continent they planned to fly just north of the Zuyder Zee, across Germany, southern Poland, Rumania and on to Bagdad.

Should they reach Bagdad the fliers will eclipse the record of Paul Codos and Maurice Rossi. Frenchmen, who flew from New York to Rayak, Syria, 5,637.6 miles in August, 1933.

110 MILE SPEED

The black-winged plane with marking G-ACJM, was expected to have an early speed of 110 miles an hour, but this would be reduced slowly to 90 miles an hour in order to conserve fuel if and when the fliers neared their destination. Flying time was estimated at 48 hours.

With hundreds of people crowding the beach before dawn, police lines kept the runway clear as the plane was loaded with 600 gallons of gasoline.

"The Trail of the Caribou" was overloaded by 2,750 pounds, bringing its total weight, including the fliers, to 7,350 pounds. Food prepared by Mrs. Lee Murray was stored in the ship, and with no ceremonies but waves of farewell, the fliers climbed in and lost no time starting.

The plane Ayling and Reid are flying was formerly "Seafarer II," in which Jim Mollison and his wife, Amy Johnson, attempted a takeoff last year for a long distance flight. They cracked up without injury.

Their load was not much greater than that carried by the Seafarer, but more power has been provided for "The Trail of the Caribou."

The fliers planned to head their ship easterly toward the St. Lawrence, thence on to Newfoundland where they would last see land before crossing the Atlantic. Reid, a native of Montreal, formerly lived in Newfoundland and has had flying experience in Canada and England. He is 36 years old. Ayling, 29, saw service with the Royal Air Force at Singapore, Straits Settlements.

Ayling and Reid, who have had no experience at long distance flights, carried ample food to last three or four days. Loaded into the ship, which has no wireless, were sandwiches, pork and beans, roast pork, hard boiled eggs, tomatoes, apples, brown bread, marmalade, coffee and orange juice.

Train Kills Man At Wetaskiwin

WETASKIWIN, Aug. 8—The dead body of an unidentified man about 50 years of age, was discovered by Trainman D. Yuill about 4 a.m., Wednesday, on the C.P.R. track a short distance south of the Wetaskiwin depot. The deceased is apparently of Slavic origin.

The wheels of the freight cars passed over the middle part of his body and death must have been instantaneous. As the dead man was a transient and no identification was found on his person by Constable Harkness, R.C.M.P., it is improbable that his identity will be established even at the inquest, which will be held at 9 p.m. on the instructions of Chief Coroner Dr. A. S. Lamont and Dr. A. S. McColgan, coroner here.

The automobile has given work to more than 4,000,000 persons.

CALGARY ENDS ITS TWO-DAY "GRIT" RALLY

leader of the opposition in the Canadian house of commons in support of the proposition that "The Bank of Canada should be government owned and controlled," has declared.

"Once a nation parts with the control of its currency and credit it matters not who makes the nation's laws.

"Until the control of the issue of currency and credit is restored to the government and recognized as its most sacred and conspicuous responsibility, all talk of the sovereignty of parliament and of democracy is idle and futile."

"And whereas the leader of the Liberal party in the Canadian parliament drew special attention to the fact that Liberalism stands for 'The issue and control of currency and credit,' 'in terms of public need,' not possible private gain," on the occasion of the 27th day of June, 1934, when he reiterated the Liberal policy which had been presented to the house of commons by him on the 27th day of February, 1933, in the following statement:—

CREDIT IS PUBLIC

"The Liberal party believes that credit is a public matter, not of interest to bankers only, but of direct concern to the average citizen.

"It stands for the immediate establishment of a properly constituted national bank to perform the functions of rediscount and the control of currency issue considered in terms of public need.

"A central bank is necessary to determine the supply of currency in relation to the domestic, social and industrial requirements of the Canadian people and also to deal with the problems of international commerce and exchange."

"Therefore be it resolved that in expressing our unswerving confidence in the leadership of Mr. King we endorse and pledge our support to his programme of monetary reform and further resolve:

"That we join with the Liberals of the Province of British Columbia in advancing the proposal that the Canadian Parliament, together with the legislative assemblies of all the provinces of the Dominion, co-operate in establishing a national banking system, a judicious scheme of taxation and a plan of domestic and international trade regulation for the purpose of permitting the Canadian people to enjoy in safety, peace and security the progressive rise in the standard of living that can be sustained by the properly directed application of the citizens' energy and intelligence to the nation's resources and her possibilities in the realm of international trade."

NO DISSENTING VOTE

Proposed by Mr. Howson, the resolution was seconded by Harry Ross, M.L.A., Calgary, passing without dissent by the 200 who attended the final afternoon session at Palliser hotel. Twelve of Alberta's thirteen Liberal legislative members were upon the platform, the only absentee being Joseph Dechene of St. Paul. The entire lineup of members also flanked the speakers at Victoria Pavilion at the night session.

The Calgary economic session was the third of a series held recently under the leadership of Mr. Howson whose idea is to secure first-hand information regarding the problems and views of all parts of Alberta. Politics, at these sessions take second place as they are open forums to which all are invited regardless of political adherence or affiliations. At the Calgary conference several speakers were of different political persuasion, but this is made no issue. It is a new type of provincial leadership in which the views of all classes and communities are solicited for the future good of Alberta.

THROES OF REFORM

Calgary is in the throes of vigorous monetary reform campaigning, public meetings and house-to-house solicitations by various reform movements. Consequently the militant economist G. G. McGeer was received with keen interest. He was in his best humorous form and made use of several big charts to emphasize his contentions.

"It is time that this credit swindle that we call our banking system is changed. Remedies proposed are as thick as flees on a dog's back—the trouble is getting the people to agree on them. Any reform must be prepared to stand vicious tests by those it would discipline and men now solidly established in the old standard practices are loathe to change. The various reform methods and isms being proposed fall short in that they will not adapt themselves to lawmaking. We agree with their ideas and ideals, and while it is easy to run the country from the fireside it is another matter to write these ideas into statutes. It is either civil war or constitutional government for correction.

TAKES DISASTER

"Altruists and philosophers for more than 2,000 years have been warning against exploitation of our fellow men, but it has taken international disaster to bring men together with the idea of service to self and country. Something is radically out of tune with the ideas of Christianity and Democracy when some sections of communities must suffer and sacrifice in order that other sections may pile up wealth and money power—and while our government is in the grip of the banker baron it 'chisels' on humanity, cutting and paring away the humanitarian things such as veterans and old-age pensions, making no move to correct the existing evils or attack the age-old monopoly of usury.

"The return of $1.00 wheat in Alberta is no evidence that our troubles are over for it is considered opinion that we are moving into the worst year of the depression. When the 'backbone' industrial stocks of the country hit new lows at this time of the year, that round-the-corner prosperity is surely moving away from us.

PRACTICING FRAUD

The banking interests of Canada were charged by Mr. McGeer with practicing the fraudulent and criminal principle of "trading short." He evidenced this point with a chart showing that with but $65,000,000 in available money the banks would have to pay out $9,500,000,000 if universal demand for payment were made. He emphasized the fact that two thousand million dollars had been paid out in interest by Canada since the war, but the nation owes more today than on the date the Armistice was signed. This was Canada's tribute to the "interest-collecting" powers—and a Christian nation's method of tribute while governments cut and 'chisel' upon humanitarian obligations. "No sane man," said the speaker, "can say that Canada can ever hope to pay-off the debts that the banking and usury systems have piled upon the nation."

Upon international trade issues Mr. McGeer advocated setting up an International Fair Trade Exchange. Canadians must be prepared to take some luxuries along with their commodities from other nations, and deal on a 50-50 basis, he said.

WITH FINAL FLING

With a final fling at R. B. Bennett, the speaker reminded hearers of the now-famous "blasting world markets" quotation, referring to the prime minister as "Dynamite Dick, the bondslipper who lives in ease and luxury, advising others to tighten their belts and face an uncertain future with the fortitude of their pioneer forbears."

The provincial Liberal leader, Mr. Howson, received an ovation as he appeared before the final public meeting. He expressed pleasure that his conception of a new political democracy as evidenced by these economic conferences was meeting with approval, co-operation and success. He reminded hearers that twenty years ago the country thrilled to the tramp of marching feet as soldiers marched to war—and pointedly attacked the administration which had forgotten their promises and obligations, leaving the mass of people in hopelessness and helplessness. The Brownlee-Reed-Hoadley government stood as a rank failure upon its own record and there was no need for platform criticism. The constantly increasing loads of taxation, debt and interest charges stood as silent accusers. That the provincial government had failed in leadership was apparent to all, and without dealing with past or present too much, the Liberal party must concentrate its sole endeavor to the problems of the future and centre all effort toward finding a way out of the morass of threatened general destitution.

"My appeal to you is not that you return a Liberal government, but that you return a better government. Our sole promise to you is that is what we will faithfully incorporate in the Liberal platform anything that redounds to the good of the people of this province, regardless of from what source it is suggested," he said.

Mr. R. M. Edmanson, provincial president of the Liberal Association, presided both at the conference and at the big public rally which concluded it.

TEN SPEAKERS APPEAR

Ten programed speakers dealing with a variety of topics appeared before the conference during Tuesday's sessions, which ran unbroken from 10 to six o'clock except for an hour's luncheon interval. The program included:

A. B. Mackay, Alberta Motor Assn.; F. S. Jacobs, Agriculture's Way Out of Depression; Jesse Gouge, Coal Industry; C. O. Hicks, Workers Alliance; L. W. Caldwell, Wool Industry; E. W. Bowness, Public Ownership vs Public Control; H. G. McCrim, Diversion Scheme; G. G. McGeer, Monetary Reform; Dr. Anderson, Berry Creek District; W. J. B. Walker, National Parks; George Irish, Workmen's Compensation.

Following the night meeting Mr. McGeer travelled west to Revelstoke, B.C., where he speaks at a public meeting on Thursday. Liberal leaders and members scattered to their respective ridings, all enthused with the success of the conferences and predicting that the awakened public interest plus organization of forces will have telling effect as time progresses.

Airmen Seek Minarets

L. G. Reid, left inset, above, and J. R. Ayling, right inset, took off from Wassga Beach, Ontario, for a flight to Bagdad, which they expect will take them from 60 to 70 hours. They hope to make the trip without stops. The plane shown in the two main parts of the above picture is the one to have been used by Capt. James and Mrs. Mollison to fly the Atlantic last year. It has been re-christened "The Trail of the Caribou." Six hundred gallons of gasoline were carried when the pair took off from the Ontario landing beach this morning.

WORK STARTED ON NEW HOME FOR 5 SISTERS

New Abode of Quintuplets to be Named After Family Physician

CALLANDER, Ont., Aug. 8.—Excavation work was begun Tuesday for the new home of the 71-day-old Dionne quintuplets. The modern brick building, with all conveniences for the care and comfort of the famous babies, will be known as "the Dafoe Hospital for the Dionne Quintuplets," in honor of the middle-aged north country practitioner who has amazed the world with the favorable progress his direction has brought the infants.

Baby Marie, tiniest of the five, showed no effects Tuesday from the radium treatment given her Sunday for the naevus tumor on her left hip. The treatment was administered by Dr. Hezard Kelly, and his son, Dr. Edmund Kelly, Baltimore specialists.

Dr. Dafoe said there was no alarm felt for Marie, but if preventive measures were not taken there was a possibility a blood vessel would burst, with a resultant hemorrhage, or the naevus would become irritated and cause infection.

CHAUFFEUR GOES TO JAIL RESULT EXTORTION NOTE

Arrested After Confessing to Writing Note Threatening Harm to Master's Wife, Asking Money.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A former chauffeur for Col. Henry Huddleston Rogers was arrested last night and confessed, police said, to a blackmail extortion plot against the Standard Oil multi-millionaire.

The chauffeur, John Cavanaga, 36, was described as a native of Pueblo, Colo., who had been in the Rogers employ for six months in 1929. He was quoted as saying he had no accomplices.

On July 23, Rogers received a letter at his Long Island summer home threatening harm to his wife. The present Mrs. Rogers is the former Mrs. Pauline van der Voort Dresser. They were married in August, 1933. The letter said:

"If you love your wife you'd better do as we tell you or something may happen to her. Get $10,000 in cash in $10 bills. You will only endanger your wife's life by reporting this. Wait for our next note."

SEA MONSTER IS SIGHTED

SAINT NAZAIRE, France, Aug. 8.—Commander Sylvestre of the French liner Cuba Tuesday officially reported to his company that a sea-serpent had been sighted from the Cuba 800 miles southwest of the Azores.

A quartermaster and two sailors corroborated the statement.

The monster was from 80 to 85 feet long, shaped like a huge lizard, with a long neck topped by a tiny head, and it had two humps on its back.

It was visible, Commander Sylvestre stated, for about 20 seconds, making four leaps out of the water each time turning its head as though to view the ship.

MANCHUKUO IS RICH IN GOLD; TO BE WORKED

Experts Believe New Jap Territory May Prove Very Valuable

By PERCY WHITEING
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Aug. 8.—Geologists and mining experts believe Manchukuo has rich deposits of gold, hidden in its extensive Khingan and other mountain ranges and river valleys, only awaiting exploitation by modern methods to yield returns that would make the new East Asian empire one of the wealthiest countries in the world.

For a good many years gold mining has been carried on in a primitive and desultory way, the output varying according to conditions, but it has been roughly estimated at an annual value of around $5,000,000.

Production has always been hampered by the activities of Manchurian bandits. It is in north Manchuria, which was most infested by the outlaws, that the richest gold deposits are believed to exist, and where most of what little mining was possible, in the unsettled conditions, was carried on.

Now with the gradual establishment of law and order under the government of the new state, systematic efforts are being made to locate and exploit the lodes and placer deposits of gold in Kirin and Heilungkiang provinces.

VICE CONSUL DECLINES TO BE EXAMINED

LOS ANGELES, Aug 8.—Dr. George Gyssling, German vice-consul here, declined to appear before a congressional sub-committee which a few hours previously heard testimony that an alleged pro-Nazi organization at San Diego offered money for stolen government rifles and ammunition.

"The committee will have to get the consent of the German embassy in Washington," Dr. Gyssling said, adding he understood he was waited "for questioning in regard to a $215 cheque, made out to cash, and indorsed by a person whose activities are under suspicion."

Just before the vice-consul declined to appear, Virgil Hayes, who said he was working in the Intelligence Service of the United States Marines, told the committee he joined the San Diego Silver Shirts, and said a member of that reputedly Nazi organization offered him money for machine-guns, rifles and ammunition to be stolen from military forces.

Hayes asserted he had seen Silver Shirts drilling with rifles presumably obtained from San Diego military sources and that they had been arming themselves and drilling in a plot to take control of the United States government.

BACK TO JOSEPH

Drought in the United States has put 800,000 farmers on relief, scattered over 1350 counties in 23 states. Crop loss is variously estimated in hundreds of millions of dollars, while milk cows and stocker cattle are being shipped in thousands to the slaughter-houses.

Leave it to nature to reduce food surpluses and curtail crops, in the worst time and way. It has been doing that periodically ever since the days of Joseph, when seven fat years were followed by seven lean years and famine everywhere, except in the country where a far-sighted prime minister had stored up the surplus grain against the inevitable day of scarcity.

Our modern crop curtailers should read the story of Joseph. And while they are at it they might read some other portions of the same book with advantage to themselves and the world. Surplus wealth is not a curse. Only human greed and stupidity make it so. The rulers of the nations should in these last four years have been thinking about how to distribute wealth and conserve it; not how to check the production of wealth.

READY TO DEAL

The mild flirtation which broke out last winter between President Roosevelt and Premier Bennett is all off. The confidential exchanges at Washington and the open gestures between the capitals have come to naught.

It is announced at Washington that Canada has been struck off the list of countries with which the Government of the United States hopes or expects to negotiate a reciprocal trade arrangement. For this reason, as stated, that reciprocity is a subject of political difference in Canada. It is.

The plain meaning of this is that Washington sees no chance whatever of framing a reciprocity pact that would mean anything important while Canada has a Government that is pledged to a policy of preventing the exchange of products between the Dominion and other countries. If Canadian producers and businessmen want to reverse the policy of national isolation and start doing business again in a large way abroad, they will first have to get rid of the Government that has shut them off from foreign markets.

This comes pretty close to being a direct offer to the people of Canada of reciprocity with the United States, if and when they say they want such an arrangement.

THOSE NEW BILLS

Information comes from Ottawa that great care is being taken in deciding upon the appearance of the new Bank of Canada notes. Eventually these will make up the total of all the Dominion and bank notes now in use, though it will take some years to bring this about. One point definitely decided is that the new notes are to be smaller than the Dominion notes now existing, smaller even than the tabloid dollars of the United States.

All which is moderately, but only moderately, interesting. What would really arouse attention would be an announcement that the Bank of Canada would issue enough of the new bills to pay off the $222,000,000 of Dominion bonds falling due on October 1st, in legal tender money, thus stopping the interest on that gigantic sum, and putting this amount of new money in circulation.

Of course the new bills should be made easy to look at, when one can get hold of some. And if they are smaller that may be a convenience, if they are not small enough to be mistaken for postage stamps or cigarette coupons. But what is really important is that there be enough of them put into circulation to buy the amount of goods produced annually in the country at fair prices.

That, by the way, isn't a wild idea of some despised "self-styled" economist. It is perfectly good, fully authenticated, "sound" money doctrine, preached by Sir Josiah Stamp—whose opinion should count for something at Ottawa.

TRY IT AGAIN

That suppressed pamphlet prepared by Hon. H. H. Stevens should make interesting and instructive reading if it were only available.

The Minister may have been moved to the use of expressions somewhat stronger than the law allows, in describing wage-cutting, stock-watering and other predatory operations on the part of some of our financial buccaneers. They evidently were strong enough to give corporation lawyers a text upon which to write threatening letters to Premier Bennett, with the result that the booklet has been withdrawn.

But the public will hardly regard that as anything worse than a literary effect, pardonable in the circumstances so long as the writer kept within the facts. If he stated the facts in language more direct than discreet, that is to be regretted but is easily understood.

Certainly anything Mr. Stevens may have said in print can be nothing more than a gentle whisper of remonstrance, compared with what the man on the street is saying about the promotion schemes, re-financing schemes and re-capitalizing schemes by which he has been robbed. And nothing but a mild echo of the current comment on the practice of plundering wage envelopes in order to pay dividends on stock which cost the owners nothing or which represents money that never went into the business.

The subject is one to invite remarks more pointed than polite. If the Minister ran foul of legal convention that is unfortunate, because it deprives the public of the opportunity to peruse his digest of the evidence which was put before the parliamentary committee. There is great need of a readable summary of that evidence, since the complete reports are not within reach of the public and are quite too bulky for any reader whose time is of value.

Mr. Stevens should go over his pamphlet with a revising pencil, cut out any passages which offer ground for legal action that might prevent it being circulated, and then issue and broadcast an expurgated edition. Whatever of vigorous denunciation is thereby lost will be readily supplied by the experience and imagination of the intelligent reader.

Poems That Live

THE WANDERER

Love comes back to his vacant dwelling,—
The old, old Love that we knew of yore!
We see him stand by the open door,
With his great eyes sad, and his bosom swelling.

He makes as though in our arms repelling,
He fain would lie as he lay before;—
Love comes back to his vacant dwelling,—
The old, old Love that we knew of yore!

Ah, who shall keep me from over-spelling
That sweet forgotten, forbidden lore!
E'en as we doubt in our hearts once more,
With a rush of tears to expiate swelling,
Love comes back to his vacant dwelling.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

That must have been a memorable sight for the passengers on the Mauretania recently, when, returning to Southampton from an ocean cruise, for several hours she ran side by side with the four-masted barque Abraham Rydberg, bound for Falmouth from Australia with grain.

J. S. Cowper

The Abraham Rydberg, coming by way of the Cape of Good Hope, made the voyage from Australia in 108 days. She was the first of the grain fleet to dock and is a likely winner of the 1934 race.

A photo taken from the decks of the giant Cunarder shows the barque under main top-gallant sail scudding along before a gale. It took the liner some time to forge ahead of the sailing ship, at cruising speed.

Just before the Mauretania came in sight the barque had every sail set. Overtaken by the gale, Capt. Tamm shortened sail, but shook out his main top-gallant sail to test his ship's speed against the liner, which had altered her course to give the passengers a view of the fine old ship racing along under sail. The Mauretania passengers cheered the barque's crew as ensigns were dipped in salute.

Old shellbacks will best remember the Abraham Rydberg when she flew the red ensign as the Star of Greenland and before that as the Hawaiian Isles, under which name she was launched at Clydeside in 1892. She is a steel, single-deck four-masted barque with a length of 270 feet and a breadth of 48.1. She is known for two dissimilar items of fame. At one time C. R. Patterson, best-known of marine artists, was a member of her crew, and sailed on her to Australia.

The other distinction was an ominous one. On her first voyage from Swansea to San Francisco she took 133 days for the voyage—which is a long time. She encountered head winds and seas and for weeks was baffled in all attempts to get round Cape Horn. Her crew were wearied and mutinous after weeks of sleepless watches, sodden quarters and uncooked food, so the skipper turned his ship about and sailed eastwards round the world to get into the Pacific.

Though that was enough to make the old salts predict an early doom, the barque has had a long and useful life, principally in the Pacific where she carried freight to and from Hawaii, and later (as the Star of Greenland) acted as a floating cannery in the Alaskan fisheries. Now she belongs to the Tall Ships Scholarship Institute of Stockholm and gives sea-training to forty cadets while carrying grain from Australia.

We may as well finish the column on a nautical note, now we've got thus far. From Peterborough, Ontario, a 24-year-old sailor with the cognate name of John Smith, set out in a 16-foot canoe for Peterborough, England. He planned, if the canoe kept right side up, to paddle and sail down the St. Lawrence, across the Straits of Belle Isle to Newfoundland, and then in as direct a course as possible from St. John's, Newfoundland, to Ireland. He had a special canvas cover to keep his craft from shipping too much water, and was carrying 50 pounds of fresh water and hard tack as ballast.

Latest reports are disconcerting, but who's to say it can't be done? It's been done in a fisherman's dory with only ten inches of freeboard (i.e., height of gunwale above the water). Still, I'd prefer that John Smith, who studied the problems involved while serving as a seaman on the Atlantic coast, chanced it rather than I. I'd rather save up $100 and cross in comfort on a C.P.R. liner and let the glory go.

Young Von Dochterman, who is building a 32-foot sea-going yawl at Vancouver, with the aid of kind friends who are donating timber, paint, plans, cordage and gear, will be ready to put to sea in a few weeks, on his proposed trip round the world. But that's a very different proposition from crossing the Atlantic in a Peterborough canoe.

Previously in this column, I've told a little about some of the modern Magellans who have ventured on solo cruises in tiny craft of 30 feet or so, to circumnavigate the globe—of Capt. Voss and the Indian dugout canoe Tilikum (which now has a place of honor outside the Crystal swimming pool at Victoria)—of old Capt. Joshua Slocum who retired from command of sailing ships to take a busman's holiday by sailing the 34-ft. Spray singlehanded round the world—or Erling Tambs and his wife taking a four-year honeymoon trip round the world in the 40-ft. "Teddy" and returning with two little Tambs and a sheaf of memories—of W. A. Robinson who toured the globe in a 32-ft. ketch. Alain Gerbault, the French tennis champ, did it alone in his 28-ft. cutter Firecrest, and a 52-year-old landsman, Harry Pidgeon, in a 34-foot yawl of his own building.

Two young Esthonian brothers, Ahto and Ekon Walter, have made three crossings of the Atlantic on a 29-foot sloop, between their home on the Baltic and New York. Last time they made it in fifty days.

On June 21, of this year, without any publicity, an English naval officer, Commander R. B. Graham, arrived at St. Johns, Newfoundland, in a 24-foot yawl. He was 24 days out from Bantry Bay, Ireland, and had made the singlehanded crossing in heavy weather. Crossing the great oceans in tiny craft is getting to be everyday happenings, but crossing in a canoe is a different matter.

Of all the round-the-world trips, I think the first, made by Capt. Slocum, still holds the palm for daring and resource. All the others made use of the Panama Canal, but Slocum went through the roaring forties and the Straits of Magellan. Off the Patagonian coast he had his one great moment that seems like a year, when an enormous wave "pooped" his little craft. As he saw the mountains of water about to break over his little ship, Slocum let go his sail and sprang for the rigging. For a minute he saw no boat beneath him. Then she slowly rose and shook herself free. That was touch-and-go.

Diet An Important Factor In Every Disease

By DOCTOR FRANK McCOY

This, the third of a series of articles in which I am explaining the part food plays in the cause and cure of all of the common disorders, brings us down the alphabetical list to the subject next in line.

Dr. F. McCoy

Fevers (acute) develop only because of some poisoning of the body and these wastes are burned up during an eliminative crisis, which we call a fever. Only the use of food not needed in the body makes a fever necessary.

Flatulence, or excessive gas pressure, is perhaps the most common symptom prevalent with every disease. Most people are literally "walking gas factories." Out of what can you make this stomach and intestinal gas if not from food used improperly?

Gallstones are alkaline concretions which form in the gall bladder from the stagnation of thickened bile. This congestion of bile not only produces gallstones but also all liver derangements. The cause is unquestionably entirely from using improper food in too large a quantity. This brings on many digestive disorders, due to the reflex action of the gall bladder upon the stomach and small intestine, especially in the region of the duodenum. In many cases the most symptoms of digestive distress are due solely to an irritated or infected gall bladder filled with thickened bile or gallstones.

Goitre is characterized by an enlargement of the thyroid gland, owing to an irritation. Two common causes are a diet lacking in food iodine and irritation of the gland by toxic wastes, due to dietetic errors.

Headaches are not usually produced by anything more mysterious than plain biliousness. It is truly remarkable how many headaches from which one may have suffered for years will disappear completely when the liver is again functioning properly. Of course, there are other causes, such as eye strain and abscessed teeth; but no matter how persistent your headache has been, do not look for any hidden reasons until you have first regulated your liver by judicious dieting.

Heart troubles of all kinds are directly traceable to excessive stomach or intestinal gas and the distention of these organs by overeating, and overdrinking of any kind of liquids. Such gassy foods as onions, garlic, cooked cabbage, baked beans, etc., must be entirely eliminated. Overexertion with physical exercise after a meal containing these foods will frequently cause a heart strain, and often sudden death.

I have written special articles dealing in greater detail with each disease mentioned in this day's article. Any of these articles will be sent to you if you state which ones you want and write me in care of this paper.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION—F. E. L. asks: "Will you kindly let me know if rubbing a bunion will reduce or enlarge it? If rubbing is of no avail, could you tell me what to do?"

ANSWER—The bunion is formed because of a constant rubbing of the toe against either a tight-fitting shoe or one that is too loose. Have your shoes fitted properly, and soak your feet in hot water for at least thirty minutes each day. Rubbing around the bunion may be of some help in increasing the blood's circulation, if the rubbing is done with a soft, gauze pad.

QUESTION—Mrs. K. asks: "Will you please tell me where I can get agar-agar, and how to use it to cure constipation?"

ANSWER—Agar-agar can be secured in any drug store. It is put up in packages in granulated form. A good way to use it is to take three or four tablespoonfuls a day, either at meals or between meals, it does not seem to matter. The agar-agar is not digested and contains very little food material. It therefore furnishes bulk for the intestines and this assists in relieving constipation which is often caused by using food which is too highly concentrated.

Horoscope

By MARY BLAKE

This August 8 may require careful planning of your time if you expect to accomplish everything that you know should receive your attention. In a business transaction that might come up, where dissatisfaction over one phase of it may be expressed, you will display good judgment if by making a concession you can avoid an argument. You may find on this date that concise statements will prove far more advantageous than long dissertations. Cupid's victims may suffer some pangs of disappointment unless they exercise the greatest care in selecting definite meeting places, and have a clear understanding as to the time they are to be there.

If a woman and August 9 is your natal day, you may find it beneficial and restful if every so often you have a change in environment. As a rule, people born on this date are inclined to be restless. This August 9 may bring you several agreeable surprises, and should prove a very happy one for you. Matrimonial life is the logical one for you to lead, as the proper type of husband may prove an influence you need to help you to accomplish certain things which you might have difficulty in.

If a man and August 9 is your birthday, you possess the happy faculty of being able to adjust yourself readily to radical changes, especially in business. You should make a great success out of anything you undertake, if you will put your heart, soul and energy into it. Your domestic life should be an ideal one, if you show your wife the proper amount of consideration.

On This Date

A Day in Canadian History —o— By FRED WILLIAMS

On this date, in 1892, Sir Daniel Wilson, the president of Toronto University, died. Although an eminent scientist and a hard-working head of the university (there very small as compared with that of today) Sir Daniel is remembered not so much because of his intellectual greatness but as the man who objected because the royal honor conferred upon him was not to his taste.

Sir John A. Macdonald was in the eighties "fostering the monarchial idea in the colonies," by some graduation of classes," this meaning knighthoods for persons to be selected. In pursuance of this policy he suggested to the governor general the name of Dr. Daniel Wilson for a mark of royal favor in the form of a knight bachelorship. Dr. Wilson saw fit to decline that honor when it arrived, not from any want of sympathy with the principle of associating Canadians in the bestowal of imperial distinctions, but because the proposed honor was not a K.C.M.G. He wrote to Sir John: "I feel that if letters and science are to be distinguished by a mark of royal favor it ought not to be less than that conferred on men who have attained to eminence in political life. I am an old antiquarian, very familiar with the relative value of the various orders of knighthood and could scarcely feel myself to have received a distinction of a title that must stamp me with inferiority in the presence of any K.C.M.G. of the Dominion or elsewhere."

On the announcement of his declination of the honor Dr. Wilson was hailed by the Liberal press as "a sturdy democrat" who "cared not for tinpot titles." This highly amused Sir John, who however, never divulged the truth and it was not known until after his death. Meanwhile, Dr. Wilson, the "sturdy democrat," finding that he could not get the ribband and star, accepted the minor honor and was known as Sir Daniel to his death, his title dating from July 20, 1888, instead of June 18.

Current Comment

THE BENNETT-STEVENS ROW

An uproar has struck the Dominion Conservative party over the publication of Hon. H. H. Stevens' booklet.

Mr. Stevens issued the booklet to distribute a speech which he had made, telling his conclusions formed in the Mass Buying and Price Spreads Committee hearing.

In plain words, he has warned the Conservative party that it had better break away from Sir James Street and concentrate its efforts to the welfare of Canadian primary producers, with especial emphasis on the farmers and the employed workers.

If it does not do this it will perish, he bluntly warns.

In his booklet appears this significant passage:

"Real Conservatism in politics, in my mind, does not consist in being allied with, or dictated to, by large financial influences; but, rather, if it is to survive, it must find its influence in the home and on the farm where real opinions are formed.

"Real Conservatism is the basis of Conservatism in politics, in my view."

"I believe that the Conservative party must really itself, get a new orientation of its views on some of our political policies and base them upon the well-being of the farmer first, and on the large body of industrial workers in the second place.

"The real health of the nation depends upon the success of these two groups. It can not be otherwise."

There is a furore in Ottawa. There is furore everywhere. Even Arthur Brisbane, read all over North America, writes about it in his column. Premier Bennett has ordered withdrawal of the booklet—a considerable feat, if not impossible, since it has been already distributed.

The reason given is that firms mentioned have said that the material concerning them is obsolete. That is a question which will be threshed out on its merits.

Meanwhile the thing that interests the Canadian public is the wide split in the Tory party. Mr. Stevens' revolt, openly, is actually against the autocracy of Premier Bennett, who has for four years kept his cabinet ministers in the role of underlings, and is now engaged in making messengers and office boys out of the provincial premiers as well.

Aside from all questions of political strategy, Mr. Stevens has put the economic issue up to the Conservative party. It must devote itself to the people or vanish as a party in Canada.

The matter does not end there. It only starts there.—Vancouver Sun.

Editor Bulletin: The following extract from a speech delivered in Sydney, N.S.W., by John Armitage, an Australian journalist who has pursued his career all over the world, including Canada, will be of interest to your readers. While in Canada Mr. Armitage says that he was the president of the Canadian Commonwealth Federation, but as he describes is as a non-political body formed to study questions of finance and economics, including Douglas Social Credit, and composed of university professors, architects, doctors and lawyer (he did not mention farmers or labour men); it is clear that it must be distinguished from Mr. Woodsworth's C.C.F. "They supplied," he said, "Mr. R. B. Bennett, the Prime Minister, with reams of matter, but as he was reputed to be fabulously wealthy, he could not realize that there was any shortage of money in Canada. The facts were that all of the principal cities and 70 per cent of the municipalities were bankrupt. High school teachers had gone without any salary for three months, men and women were walking about with rags wrapped around their feet and clothed in sacks, and yet Canada was reputed to be about head of population than any other country in the world."

The World-Wide General Strike

—By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

Old-time scientists used to claim that human imagination and human understanding were limited to things which had been seen by and could be described by a human being. For this reason, these wise men argued, when the scriptures came to describe Heaven, the description was based on streets of gold, and palaces of marble, and fields of living green—because human beings had seen and could describe these objects. There would be no use in telling of objects entirely unknown to humanity, because our finite minds could not understand them.

This difficulty of the limited outlook of the human mind is what makes it hard for an individual to get a true perspective of the conditions arising from the world-wide general strike of all the nations which has choked the commerce of the world.

When the labour unions in San Francisco walk out in a general strike we have no trouble in understanding that a man who cannot buy meat and groceries today is going to have a hungry family tomorrow.

But when we try to realize that unless the gates of commerce are re-opened nothing in the world will be worth anything, it is hard to get the true perspective. We can realize everything about a single city—but can only dimly understand world effects.

Canadians, for instance, could never be substantially affected by the San Francisco general strike; but out of sympathy for the residents of that city, whose troubles we fully understand, we are deeply concerned about it.

The world-wide international strike against commerce, in which Canada took an active part with a policy of blasting our way into the markets of the world, has wrecked the values of fixed assets and caused a collapse of wage scales and commodity prices from one end of the Canada to the other; but we think we are able to carry on the tariff war until other nations capitulate.

The fact is that the peoples of other nations are no more able to realize facts on a world-wide scale than we are. The general public in most nations does not know that Canada is in the world; much less that Canada wants or needs to do business with them.

Our only way to get action is to advertise our commodities abroad on terms which show residents of foreign countries how to make some money by dealing with us. They do not have to deal with us; and they won't unless a profit is in sight.

A well-advertised offer to the whole world of a reciprocal basis of trade, under which any nation buying Canadian products can in the same year ship equal value of its own products into Canada at 50 per cent of our tariff rates, will break the world-wide strike against commerce so far as Canada is concerned. The element of an offered profit will bring action. The alternative is to talk big and stay broke.

Dies Trying To Scale Mt. Everest

The daring attempt of Maurice Wilson (above) to climb Mount Everest alone failed dramatically when, according to his letters, he perished but 6,000 feet short of his goal. A former British Army captain, Wilson, disgusted at Tibet's an to elude authorities, made the forbidden ascent after weeks of training in an attempt to plant the Union Jack atop the peak.

FEAR BLAMED MARKET LOSS BY STEVENS

ment had nothing to do with restriction of trade with European and other countries and quoted long lists of tariff figures to sustain his contention.

CLASHES WITH STEWART

He took issue with statements attributed to Hon. Charles Stewart, member for West Edmonton, that the Bennett government was the most asinine in history, and that the tariff policies of the Bennett government had closed world markets to Canadian products.

Mr. Stevens asked the audience to judge by the statistics he had to offer. He asked when the tariffs had been raised against Canadian produce? Then he proceeded to answer his question.

He told his audience that when Mackenzie King assumed office in 1922 there was a tariff of 11 cents against wheat coming into France. When he left in 1930 this had risen to 93 cents. In 1921 the tariff on flour was 24 cents a hundred weight, in 1930 $2.28. Cheese entered France under a duty of 45 cents a hundred weight in 1922, and in 1930 it had increased to $1.78. Butter in 1922 entered under a duty of 40 cents, but in 1930 there was $3.45 against each hundred weight to France.

The increases in the tariff by the French government was typical of those imposed by other governments, declared Mr. Stevens, who quoted figures to support his statements.

DUTY WENT UP

"The duty on many export products from Canada was increased six, seven or even eight times between the years 1922 and 1930 while Liberals ruled at Ottawa, but it would not be truthful to state that the government policies of that period were responsible for the increase. It would be as untruthful for me to stand here and tell you that Liberal policies caused the increases in tariff against Canada and other exporting nations, as it is untruthful for Liberal politicians to state that the Bennett government policies have caused the stemming of exports of Canadian products," stated Mr. Stevens.

The result of the tariff policies of European and other countries, according to Mr. Stevens, was responsible for the drastic decline in wheat prices, and it became imperative that the government step in to a limited extent to prevent chaos. Had this action not been taken wheat prices during recent years would have reached a level of 25 cents Fort William. He claimed the government had saved scores of millions of dollars to the wheat farmers of western Canada, and that the Liberal party could take no credit for this policy as they had consistently opposed the action of the government in entering the market in the interests of western agriculturists.

Mr. Stevens said the wheat outlook was distinctly better owing to failure of crops, and that Australia would only have 60,000,000 bushels for export, the Argentine 100,000,000, the United States 200,000,000, while Canada's crop was about on parity with last year.

At this point Mr. Stevens referred to the abnormal conditions existing in Southern Saskatchewan and northern Manitoba, stating the situation "Was a major problem which will have to be met."

He said the price of wheat had risen and that Canadian farmers may well look forward to a return for their operations which would show at least a profit for their work. The government, he said, was taking no credit for this increase, as world conditions in the various countries was responsible, but he asked his audience to give careful consideration to the measures which the government had adopted to protect the farming community of Canada.

With the markets of the world closed to Canadian products Mr. Stevens said it was necessary for the government to seek an outlet for these products, that reason the Ottawa conference was called and the empire trade agreements entered into.

These agreements have resulted in enormous increases in trade with the British dominions and the colonies, stated Mr. Stevens. Trade with Britain had increased 51 per cent. between the year 1932, the year previous to the enacting of the agreements, and the end of the year 1933, with the Irish Free State 30 per cent., with Australia 124 per cent., with British South Africa 54 per cent., and with British Guiana 31 per cent.

Bacon exports had increased from 218,000 hundred weight to 1,160,000 cwts., cattle exports from 22,000 head to 55,000 with a considerable increase indicated this year; pre-bulk fruits from 70,000 cwt. to 160,000 and apples from 1,460,000 barrels to 3,000,000, while wheat flour exports had increased by 600,000 barrels, canned vegetables from 9,000,000 pounds to 14,000,000 and lumber from 152,000,000 feet to 693,000,000. These were some of the results of the agreements signed at the Ottawa empire conference, stated Mr. Stevens.

"Every Liberal who is loyal to Mackenzie King is pledged to the cancellation of those treaties," stated Mr. Stevens, who asked his audience to make a careful study of the results obtained by them before passing judgment on the Bennett government.

Dealing with the import side of the Empire agreements Mr. Stevens brought the attention of his audience to the fact that 3,000 items had been placed on the free list with the result that a number of lines formerly made in Canada had been forced out of business. This action had been taken by the government he said, because these industries could not benefit by tariff protection given them.

He then referred to the glass trade in Canada, stating that following action by certain glass manufacturers in Eastern Canada it was decided that glass be placed on the free list with the result that Britain has increased exports to Canada from 500,000 square feet to 7,907,000 square feet.

Wool yarns, cotton yarns and tops are also on the free list with great increases in exports to Britain.

The result of the Empire trade agreements has resulted in the lowering of dutiable articles into Canada. Under the Mackenzie King government 82 per cent of articles entering Canada were dutiable. Under the Bennett government 49 per cent. while 37 per cent of articles entering Canada under the Conservative government are on the free list.

Mr. Stevens dealt briefly with the Central Bank set up, and ridiculed the contention of those who advocated the public ownership of this institution. He outlined the structure proposed for this institution and stated that control over the structure was in the hands of the government. If publically owned the danger of politics interfering with the functions of the bank was great, and for that reason the set up proposed was adopted, said Mr. Stevens.

MARKETING ACT

He also dealt briefly with the marketing act legislation which he stated was devised to obtain for the primary producer the best possible price for his products. Opponents of the government had termed this an arbitrary act, said Mr. Stevens, but why quarrel about arbitrary acts when nations of the world were controlling markets by quotas and regulations. The act was passed to

MARTIAL LAW LIFTED TODAY FROM STYRIA

Government Also Announces Pension Plan For Dollfuss' Widow

VIENNA, Aug. 8.—Martial law in the province of Styria, in force since the civil strife of two weeks ago, was lifted this morning at eight a.m. it was announced last night.

Styria was the pivotal point in the fighting in the provinces between Nazi insurrectionists and federal forces following the assassination of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss.

CLOSER UNITY

United more closely than ever by the assassination of the chancellor Dollfuss, Austria today rises as a single man for the defence of its liberty, Kurt Schuschnigg, the new chancellor, said in an address to the people of Austria last night.

After a glowing eulogy of the little man whose life was claimed by Nazi Putschists when they broke into the Ballhausplatz July 25, Chancellor Schuschnigg appealed for the confidence of his people and their support of his government.

PENSION TO WIDOW

The semi-official Wiener Zeitung Tuesday published a decree by which Austria accorded the widow of Dollfuss a pension for herself and her children.

The widow will receive during the term of her widowhood a yearly amount equal to the late Chancellor's salary. In addition she will receive a special sum for each of her children. In the event of her re-marriage the children will continue to receive special pensions until they come of age.

England, Ireland Scotland Leading In Lawn Bowling

LONDON, Aug. 8—England, Ireland and Scotland led the three lawn bowling divisions of the British Empire games Tuesday, but trundlers of these islands were far from certain of finishing on top of the standings. Canadian bowlers were on their heels in singles, doubles and rinks, and so were others.

H. Sprot remained the only unbeaten singles bowler after four matches had been played in the round-robin tournament, but R. S. MacDonald of Tillsonburg, Ont., Canada's representative, was decidedly in the running with only one defeat. Yesterday he defeated L. C. Keyes of New Zealand 21-1, trundling almost perfectly. Then he upset P. Holloway of Wales, 21-15.

The noted British pair, T. C. Hills and G. W. A. Wright, were unbeaten in doubles. W. G. Hutchison of Toronto and A. A. Langford won both their matches Monday but succumbed to T. R. Davies and F. Davies of Wales, Tuesday, 25-16.

Hon. W. D. Euler's Canadian rink won two matches Tuesday 19-14 from New Zealand and 22-18 from Wales, the Euler rink will play a match in four and placed second to Ireland's undefeated four.

RED CHEVRONS ANNUAL CHURCH PARADE SUNDAY

Drum-head Service to be Held at Parliament Grounds

On Sunday next, August 12, Edmonton will have an opportunity of seeing on parade men who were among those who bore the brunt of the fighting in the early days of the Great War, twenty years ago, when the local Red Chevron Club holds its annual church parade on this occasion—taking the form of a drum-head service at the parliament buildings grounds.

REPRESENTATIVE PARADE

It will be the most representative gathering of "originals"—Imperial and Canadian—possible to get together in Western Canada. On parade will be survivors of some of the most famous British regiments, and the Royal Navy, all of whom fought as part of the Armies of "Contemptible Little Army," took part in the Mons retreat, and later rallied at the very gates of the city, the great German drive on Paris. Held in the utmost contempt by the Kaiser on its arrival in France, its little army of some 80,000 men was the deciding factor in checking the enemy's progress and turning a great German victory into defeat.

A force which the Germans held in even greater contempt was the colonial troops from Canada. Defeated by all recognized methods of warfare, the Germans turned to their chemists, who produced poison gas—with which they sought to gain a clear road to Calais. The first gas attack at the 2nd Battle of Ypres was to give the 1st Canadian Division a distinct place in military history and "Ypres" a new meaning to "render the ground on which it fought and nobly died forever sacred to Canada." The Canadian first division, by holding firm in the face of poison gas attacks enabled the Imperial divisions to come into the fight and thus completely saved a critical situation.

ORIGINAL VETERANS

On parade on Sunday will be survivors of practically every unit which went to make up the 1st Canadian Division. Including the P.P.C.L.I. almost every battalion will be represented.

It is fitting that these British and Canadian veterans of the original forces should be associated in this parade. Comrades-in-arms in the early days of the war, these men are, twenty years later, through the Red Chevron club, perpetuating a comradeship and a mutual appreciation and respect begun in those tragic days.

Two bands will escort the parade to the parliament buildings—the pipers of the 49th battalion, by kind permission of Lt. Col. Harris, O.C. 1st Battalion Edmonton Regiment, under Pipe-Major Henry, the original P.P.C.L.I.; and the brass band of the 1st Battalion Edmonton Fusiliers, by kind permission of Lt.-Col. Edward Brown, M.M., O.C., under Bandmaster Bullock. An interesting feature is that Albert Armstrong, big drum artist who left Edmonton in August, 1914, with the band of the 101st Fusiliers, will come out of retirement and again act in that capacity for this occasion.

MEDALS WILL BE WORN

Medals and decorations will be worn. The club's flag, presented by the Fort Augustus Chapter, I.O.D.E. will be under command of Capt. H. Jamieson, and will be carried by an Imperial and a Canadian veteran, both Red Chevron men. The service will be conducted by the club padre, Rev. Canon C. A. Gough.

The parade will gather at the Memorial Hall at 10 a.m. and will march off soon after. The general public is invited to greet the men as they march through the streets, and to attend the open-air service at the parliament buildings. Police arrangements have been made for the parade, while provincial government authorities have made provisions for the service.

Police Seeking For Telephone Book Slicker

A slicker with a racket so transparent that it should never have worked, pulled it Tuesday on some success on Mrs. A. C. Lowes of 10230 107 street.

The slicker, stating he was soliciting orders for a special kind of phone book, sold one to Mrs. Lowes, and then returning later, asked to use the phone and stole the book. Mrs. Lowes did not say how much the book cost her, but the slicker has both the money and the directory again. She gave police a description of the man, age about 30 to 35 years.

There are about 2,000,000 square miles of arid country in China.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

A Fascinating Pastime with Albert Edward Wiggam, D.Sc., the Noted Author of The Fruit of the Family Tree

AUTHOR'S NOTE: These answers are given from the scientific point of view. Not all moral questions can be answered with absolute scientific accuracy, but no decision as to the social science rule puts the rights of organized society above the rights of individuals.

1—Just why a high school class would debate this question is hard to understand since there can be but one sensible answer, namely, no. Since young men usually have wider contacts than young women, they should if anything, be more restrained by parental advice than young women.

2—Personal M. Symonds, of Teachers College, Columbia, studied the social and moral attitudes of a large group of young people in Honolulu from the eight grade up through the University of Hawaii. His methods were too technical to detail, but his report in the Journal of Educational Psychology almost conclusively that the school had studies, while the home, church and newspapers were the chief factors in determining their opinions.

3—Decidedly unless they read with some guidance. There are so many books called "psychology" written, as H. L. Hollingworth, distinguished psychologist of Barnard says: "by people who know how to pronounce psychology, but do not know how to spell it," that no wonder the public gets bewildered. Furthermore, there is danger that the reader will find he has all the symptoms described, as in reading patent medicine ads. If you will send a self-addressed stamped envelope and an extra three cent stamp I will send you a list of books on normal psychology selected by leading psychologists which I think any one can safely read.

ONE KILLED, 2 HURT IN CRASH

HUNTSVILLE, Ont., Aug. 8.—Creighton "Curly" Kirk, 22, was fatally injured; his brother George, 16, was instantly killed, and Betty Sim, "Curly's" sweetheart, for the death of whose father Kirk was convicted on a manslaughter charge and appealed, was seriously injured early today when their automobile overturned near here. Another brother, Charles Kirk, 18, was thrown clear of the machine.

"Curly" Kirk was driving the car when it suddenly left the highway at Norton, seven miles north of Huntsville. Before he could right it, the auto rolled over.

He said "he was not ashamed of the contents of this document, that it had been printed at the expense, and that the taxpayers of Canada had nothing to worry about concerning it."

Verandah Tea At "Y" Bungalow Planned At Seba

Committee at Lake Arranges Annual Affair

Tea will be served on the shaded verandahs of the Y.W.C.A. bungalow at Seba on Wednesday afternoon, August 15, when the committee at the lake will be in charge of arrangements for this annual affair. An afternoon's motor trip along the beautiful highway to the resort is a delight in itself, and to be guests of the "Y" at tea upon arrival is quite the most pleasant kind of invitation.

Mrs. H. A. Craig, Mrs. H. A. Mackie, Mrs. Edith Smith, Mrs. J. W. Judge, and Mrs. H. O. Patriquin are members of the Seba committee, who are convenors. Mrs. E. P. Wellwood, general secretary of the "Y" and Mrs. Fred V. Hollands, president of the Y.W.C.A. board, will welcome the guests.

Members of the board in Edmonton are also assisting with arrangements, and cars will be placed at the disposal of those wishing to attend.

The bungalow was a most popular home for many week-end campers who attended the regatta on Monday afternoon. The great open fire place with a log fire burning in the lounge was a cheerful welcome every evening.

Boat races and swimming, which were the features of the regatta, were no more popular than the bon fires along the beach on the evenings when it was estimated that there were 3,000 visitors, all joining in the fun and in the singing of camp songs. Dances were held on Saturday and Monday evenings.

Among the guests at the Y.W.C.A. camp were Mrs. E. Davis, Miss Doris Davis, Miss Irene Farmer, Miss Kathleen Farmer, Miss Loretta Boyle, Miss M. J. Webber, Mrs. F. S. Wright, Miss Hazel Wright, Miss Irene McGill, Miss Betty Morris, Miss Irene Brown, Miss Maisie Laird, Miss Jean Wallace, Miss M. B. Race, Miss Helen McKinley, Miss Elaine Thomas, Mrs. M. E. For four years Miss Kinney has attended the Chalif school, taking full courses for her diploma at the summer sessions. During the winter season she conducts her school in Edmonton, which includes all departments for dancing and physical culture, including kindergarten work.

This year she went east toward the middle of June to complete her work for graduation. Students from Europe and America attend the school, which is world famous, and it is a most distinctive honor for Miss Kinney to have been made valedictorian, among several hundred students.

The closing exercises were held on Saturday, August 4, when feature dancing, and special solo work, in which Miss Kinney took part, made a delightful program.

Miss Marian Kinney is also attending the school and took courses in New York this summer. They are expected to return to Edmonton toward the middle of August and will resume their classes in the fall.

Marjorie Scanlon Is Lovely Bride At Home Wedding

Interest of Society Centered in Adams-Scanlon Nuptials

The marriage of Marjorie Kathleen, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Scanlon, and Mr. Nathan David Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams of Estevan, Sask., took place quietly at the bride's family residence on Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock.

The marriage was performed before the fireplace, banked high with gladioli, regal lilies and white phlox. Dr. A. C. Farrell read the marriage lines, assisted by Rev. T. C. Buchanan, the bride's pastor. Miss Valerie Nance played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautiful in a gown of ivory lace, made on princess lines and falling en train. Her veil of silk net was worn cap fashion and fastened by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. William Bligh Scanlon, wore crepe in a soft shade of delft blue, with a bandeau of matching flowers in her hair. She carried sweetheart roses.

The soloist, Miss Violet Cummings, was accompanied by Miss Helen Porter.

Mrs. Scanlon, mother of the bride, wore blue lace with matching cape jacket and corsage of pink roses.

The bride's table was centred by the wedding cake with tall white tapers in crystal candlesticks on either side. Those serving were: Mrs. Douglas Nelson, Miss Gwen Braithwaite, Miss Mae Massie, Miss Valerie Nance, Miss Ruth Cushing, Miss Olive Turnbull, Toronto, Ont., Miss Helen Porter and Miss Thelma Atkinson.

Dr. W. A. Atkinson proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded feelingly.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Adams left by motor for their home in Timmins, Ontario. En route they will stop in Estevan, Sask., to visit the bridegroom's parents, and in Chicago and Toronto. For travelling the bride wore a smart suit of navy crepe with blouse of eggshell and navy three-quarter length coat. Her chic felt hat, shoes and bag were to match, and she wore a corsage of gardenias.

Social - - Personal

THREE fishermen had drawn in their lines, and as the long shadows fell they mused over the embers of their fire. The afterglow cast a reddish reflection of the river, wraiths of spume hung like phantoms in chilling air, and the dank pungent, so acutely pungent, stood gloomily watchful down to the river's edge.

They were silent, these fishermen, each lost in thought, as he gazed into the glowing fire, now out across the swiftly moving stream. The third fisherman took his pipe from his mouth and turning to his companions asked them, simply, "What do you see?"

His words were the first to break the silence, and with a laugh the first fisherman, who was a restless sort stretched lazily, breathing deeply of the cool sweet air, "Early up and a good catch tomorrow, that's all I see," he said. "Except for you, I see you building the fire and . . . I smell the fish sizzling in the pan . . . with you as cook of course? . . . He leaned close to the fire, poking little sticks into the embers and watching the flames run high. He had no eye for the river's beauty.

The second fisherman had been staring gloomily out across the water. "What do I see?" he asked, I see the leaves falling, and the river carrying them far down. I see the river suddenly become still, and locked beneath a bar of ice . . . and long winter either." He kicked a log upon the embers. "Well, what do you see?" he asked the third fisherman sharply. "What do you see through the mist out there?"

The third fisherman turned to them all in his eyes was the look of a vision, and a great wonder. "What do I see?" he said slowly. "I see birch bark canoes upon the river and the dip of swift paddles—I see painted braves, tall and lean, bronzed by sun and wind and resolute, far looking eyes, as the first white men forced the river's path into north west. The wonder of it!" he exclaimed. "There where the lights behind the river at one time was nothing but the sharp forbidding forms of pine, the buildings upon heights are not too pompous to overshadow the age old hills carved out through centuries by this old river.

"I feel the smothering silence alive with the nerve like voices of the wilderness. How it must have passed upon the consciousness of these adventurers but that had no terror for them. I see Indian watchers signal to tribes beyond the horizon."

There was a long silence as each of the fishermen looked out through the wraiths of mist, and saw, too, the gliding canoes round the bend, then drift swiftly into the shadows that make them. They, too, heard the wish of the water upon the stones—felt the mystery of silence so vibrantly alive.

Over the heights came the moon, a blood red harvest moon, and pricked into light each little shining stone.

"Let's turn in," said the first fisherman—E. R. B.

Potpourri Of Fabrics Latest Fashion Decree

Designers Show Knee Length Tunics For Evening Gowns

By ADELAIDE KERR

PARIS, Aug. 8.—The dizziest array of hybrid luxury fabrics Paris ever displayed is the outstanding feature today of the fortnight of dressmakers' winter exhibits now drawing to a close.

Designers no longer are content to cling to standbys, but sponsor a bewildering potpourri, mingling two or three materials into one fabric. There were changeable lame velvets, quilted lame taffetas, cellophane silks, pailletted laces and quilted, elasticized crinkled velvets evening wear.

In vivid and subdued colors for other items included gunmetal, gold and silver lames, woven on a base of black; white, pale green, pink, purple and vivid red day fabrics, stressing rubberized cellophane, and bumpy, crinkled wools, ecloque crepes, quilted taffetas and satins with numerous lame weaves and lame ribbon trims.

Evening gowns of softly blended fabrics are designed for the season's favorite, the slender silhouette, sometimes with modified knee length tunics.

Skirts generally fall in narrow but easy fitting lines to the floor. Often they are slit and sometimes trained.

JASPER JOTTINGS

By FAY PARKER

Week-end visitors from Edmonton crowd resort; Boys cycle over highway to Jasper; Travellers admire incomparable scenery; Calgary lads bike from Banff to Jasper on their way to gold fields; Maligne Lake is popular fishing spot for fishermen.

An amazing number of Edmontonians availed themselves of the civic holiday, the excursion rates on the railway, and the good condition of the Jasper highway to visit Jasper. Special coaches during the week-end brought hundreds to visit friends and fill the hotels to capacity, and almost as many more came in their own cars and camped at the Cottonwood campsite. Monday saw a general exodus, but everyone had a grand time and all say they are coming back. Jasper enjoys playing host to all the world outside our park.

Several members of the Silver Hawks Bicycle club pedalled their way from Edmonton to Jasper, arriving Friday with actual travelling time of 21 hours. Something of a record! They were Bill Young, the son of 11245 94 street and Douglas Overton of 11119 94 street. Several other members of the club shipped their wheels into Jasper and enjoyed several trips with Thompson and Overton.

The Barwick tours left Jasper on Sunday after a five-day stay at the Lodge, and all the forty-nine members were enthusiastic over Jasper's scenic attractions. They travelled at Angel Glacier and Mt. Edith Cavell, one of the party, from Edmonton of several Jasper trips and sundry others in the United States, declared that nothing can compare with the wonderful beauty of this mountain and glacier. Just last week we encountered a very blase individual at Cavell who gazed aloft and said, "Humph, we have a better one on Vancouver Island than that." Now we know they haven't.

The Collet Club, W.I.G.C., with Miss Jean Carthew, Miss Margery McGuire and Miss Iris Woodcock as their executive in charge, held a most successful dance in Otto's Hall on Friday night with Younie's orchestra in attendance.

Two Calgary lads, Barry Himmelman and Bill Jones, are on their way this week via Mt. Robson to the Cariboo Hills and the gold fields. They arrived in Jasper after travelling from Calgary by way of Lake Minnewanka and the forest reserves between Banff and Jasper Parks. With one pack horse and "Curly", their trail-wise dog, they spent three weeks enroute, and encountered only two rangers and a band of Indians on the Kootenai Plains. The lads caught fish, and dried them for the trail in primitive fashion and can spin some exciting tales of their trip. On Monday they left for the west by the "iron horse" to Mt. Robson, intending to start on foot again from there. Like the youth of fifty years ago, they are armed with gold pan and pack and the light of high adventure in their hearts.

The C.N.R. nine won the championship in the local baseball league. Now a new series of five games between the All Stars and the C.N.R.'s started on Sunday with the All Stars winning to the tune of 8-4. Battery for the winners, Larry Beachell and Saunders with T. Burges, and for the C.N.R. P. Noulett with H. Davis.

Stan Kitchen has an outfit out for twenty-four days to Mt Robinson via the distant north boundary of the Park, with Red Creighton and Dean Swift in charge.

Maligne Lake has had a great run of popularity the past week and there seems to be no limit to the fish there. The more they catch, the more there seems to be left. Beaver and Medicine lakes share with the popularity of Maligne, and even more nice ones have been taken at Pyramid lately.

Weddings

BELL-SHAW

ISLAY, Aug. 8.—A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday, August 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw, Islay, when their daughter, Hilda Louise, was united in marriage to Mr. Robert Bell of Islay, the Rev. Mr. Leard conducted the ceremony.

ABILITY TO TALK NECESSARY ASSET

DEAR MISS DIX.—I have been going steady with a young man and we get along very well together except for one thing which I am afraid will break up our friendship, which I value very highly, and that is my lack of conversation. I talk very little. This is not because I am dumb either literally or figuratively, for I am intelligent, well educated and a great reader, but it is just that I enjoy listening in preference to talking.

This silence on my part is a bone of contention between us. He feels that I am too introspective and that I not only do not talk enough but that I am so shut up in myself that I drive people away from me instead of attracting them. Is reticence on a person's part an asset or a liability, or just unnatural?

GRACE.

Dorothy Dix

Answer:

It is all three, according to the way you look at it. Certainly the woman who talks little is kept from saying many foolish things, and if she never discusses her private affairs she saves herself from much bitter repentance, and so far reticence is an asset.

But the silent woman is seldom popular. It is the bright, vivacious, twittering woman who can chatter along about nothing by the hour who is always in demand for parties and who is the hostess' delight, and, viewed from that angle, reticence is a distinct liability. And not liking to talk is so unnatural as to be almost abnormal in the sex whose tongue is popularly believed to be hung in the middle and able to wag at both ends.

But there is a lot to be said in favor of lending your ears instead of giving your tongue. Good listeners are quite a rarity in a world filled with monologists, all anxious to discourse about themselves and their own affairs and interests, that it appears to me your boy friend does not appreciate the blessing he has in you. Nothing is so hard to get as an audience and, having found one, he would be wise to secure it to himself by every bond that the marriage service can forge. Personally, I do not think of nothing so delightful as having a companion who would let me do all the talking without even desiring to retaliate with an account of her own experience and the details of her own affairs.

But your problem calls attention anew to men's inconsistent attitude about women's talking. From time immemorial their favorite gibe at our sex has been our love of the sound of our own voices. It has formed the subject of millions of jokes and wisecracks and they never weary of telling us that we talk too much. But, in reality, what they publicly proclaim our greatest vice they secretly esteem our greatest virtue.

Consider. Did you ever know a silent girl that the boys were crazy to date up? You never did, no matter what a good-looker or what a peachy dancer she may be. The truth is that most men are conversationally lazy themselves. They don't want to have to make any effort to entertain a woman. They don't want to have to bother to think up subjects to talk about. And so they pick out a girl who can babble on, like the brook, forever and forever.

And men like chatterbox wives. Their idea of a cheerful evening at home is not one spent with a dumb lady who has popped into the silence and who might be a graven image so far as any companionship goes. They like to have the talk flowing with the news of the house and the neighborhood and who can't go to the corner grocery without picking up a funny little story.

Stevenson rated being a good gossip as the most important quality a wife could have, and he wasn't far wrong. Certainly nobody can imagine a merry dinner table with a woman at the head of it with never a word to say. People who eat in silence just gobble. They never dine.

So I think learning to talk is a necessary accomplishment for women, and no line they can carry is as good a line as one of innocuous chatter. Of all the birds, the one we most frequently choose for a pet is the canary. DOROTHY DIX.

What's What

I was amazed recently to hear the subject of religion introduced at a gathering of (presumably well-educated people of different beliefs at a Summer hotel table. As usual, it caused bad feeling. Tell me: Is it considered proper nowadays to criticize any religion in a public place? That was accomplished a gross rudeness when I was young.

GRANDMOTHER.

Answer—No, the old rule is as strict as ever. Certain subjects are banned forever in "polite society." Some of these topics are offensive; others, good in themselves, are out of place in mixed company. To introduce religious discussion or sectarian controversy in any social gathering is distinctly bad form. Society is made up of members of all churches or of none. There are beliefs and disbeliefs which are sure to clash if aroused to take part in a conversational conflict of opinion. After all, one's creed is strictly a personal matter; it has nothing to do with social routine. And, surely, conversation may range through a veriety of interesting themes without wounding the susceptibilities of anybody present.

Kindly let me know through your paper the following: If a young man of one's family meets his brother and sister on the street, is it proper for him to take his hat off to them? SISTER.

Answer—By all means. He owes them that common courtesy, at least.

When it fights, the caterpillar of the puss moth spits a stream of poison liquid.

DAILY TRUE STORY

THE VILLAGE "CRACKPOT"

By Judson Stuart

Pete Hawkins was just about to close his "place."

That is, it had been a "place" all through the years of prohibition, if one cares to call it that. Now it was a saloon, quite legal. But the habits of a dozen years are hard to overcome and the natives of Jasperville insisted on calling it a "place."

A disreputable sort of a man sat slumped down at a corner table. He and Pete, the proprietor, were the sole occupants. And just then two men come in. They were neatly dressed but one glance at their faces would tell you that they had been taught, or even attended a bible class.

"Hi, Buddy," said one of the men, "what sort of whiskey you got?"

"Legal and price on the mahogany," Pete told him, without showing any more emotion or intelligence in his face than there is in a pumpkin.

Both men laughed and addressed each other as Sam and Joe. Sam put the price on the mahogany and Pete poured the drinks.

The derelict, slouched at a corner table, came over hesitatingly and Pete scowled at him.

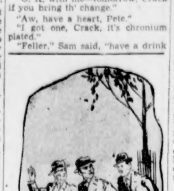

"How about a shot, Pete," the man asked, huskily. "On the strength of some change I got comin' to me tomorrow?"

"O. K. with me—tomorrow. Crack if you bring th' change."

"Aw, have a heart, Pete."

"I got one, Crack, it's chromium plated."

"Feller," Sam said, "have a drink and go away," and he paid for the drink. The man took it gratefully and crept back to his corner.

"How come?" Sam growled. "You got us all wrong."

"Who is he?" Sam asked Peter.

"Town bum, we call him 'Crack' because he's an awful crack-pot when he's stewed, and the oldest inhabitant can't remember being him sober," Pete explained.

Sam bought a bottle and took it to a table in a far corner where they talked in undertones. Having bought a quart at retail rates per drink, Pete couldn't very well close. Finally Sam called out, "Hey, Crack, come and have another shot."

The village bum, as Peter described him, shambled over eagerly. Sam and Joe gave him four shots one after the other.

"Beat it back to your corner," Sam ordered, "and when you come up for air I'll give you some more."

The man staggered back.

"I'm a dam' softie when it comes to bums," Sam explained to Pete. "I had a swell pal go that way once."

He went back to Joe and they began talking very low and Sam began to write something. They argued over it quite a while, in whispers.

HERE A MONTH

The thing was finished and Sam went back to the bar and bought a quart to take to the hotel with him, he explained. Then he got a stamp.

"Forgot to tell you, Crack," he warded, we'll be here a month, probably, looking over some property." Sam said.

"Make it a year and see if I care. I could use a lot more good customers like you," Pete almost permitted himself to smile.

"Hey, Crack, can ya stand another?" Sam called to the bum.

The man came over eagerly but unsteadily.

They gave him a stiff drink.

"Say, what day is this, anyway?" Sam asked. Joe said that he didn't know. Sam looked at the bum, who scratched his head and said, "Hell, Mister, I even forgot what month it is."

They gave him another drink and Sam said, "Back to your corner, feller, and wait 'for th' next round."

To Pete he said, "Want to close up?"

"Take your time; I'm supposed to close at midnight, but I got friends in Jasperville who hold the right kind of offices. I never been pinched yet, and I been running this place 12 years."

"O. K. We'll finish th' quart and get going."

Sam went back and began to talk with Joe again.

"He might fall down on it—he might remember us," Joe warned.

He was referring to the bum, who seemed to be asleep at the far table.

"O. K., but you do it, then."

Joe thought is over and shook his head.

"Guess we'll have to trust him. Say, why can't we trail him?"

"I intend to. It's a cinch up that dark street all overhung with trees."

"And suppose they do get this bum? That don't mean a thing, th' word will get through O. K. Didn't I write that if the messenger with th' letter was stopped or molested we'd—"

WATCHED MEN

Outside, hidden in a doorway of a village store, they saw the proprietor and the bum come out. Pete and Crack walked. The bum sat on the step and began to fumble through his pockets. Sam gave Joe his bat and put on a cap.

"My good man," Sam said in a falsetto, "if you will deliver this letter to a man who will be waiting at the gate of the Jasperville Memorial park it will mean a dollar to you, in advance. I have to catch a train."

"Geez, yes, sure, mister," Crack said eagerly.

He took the letter and the dollar and started down the village street, still shambling, rather unsteadily, but with enough vigor to make Sam sure he would deliver it all right.

Sam and Joe trailed him easily enough.

The Jasperville Memorial park was a small enclosure with giant maples at the little gate where the path led to the soldier's monument. The park was the gift of the Honorable Cyrus Gladdenfield, whose boys had fallen in the war. The Gladdenfields were millionaires and natives of Jasperville.

"Crack" stood by the gate looking around when a man came through.

"A message?" the man whispered.

"Sure, Boss," and Crack handed it over and started back.

Sam and Joe followed slowly, well satisfied with the way it had been handled.

They came upon "Crack."

"Is this a phoney dollar?" Crack asked.

They looked and saw, not a dollar bill, but a gun in Crack's hand. Sam made a move but somebody

Cottage Cheese Helps Solve Many Household Problems

By MARY E. DAGUE

Are you wrestling with such problems as getting the family to use its quota of milk daily, balancing the food budget, thinking up inviting and nourishing meals for the dog days and short-cutting your own work in the kitchen? Then you may find your answer in these recipes using cottage cheese.

Sister Mary you want it.

A molded cheese ring filled with a salad of mixed vegetables, mixed fruits, rich chicken or fish is delicious for luncheon or Sunday night supper or any time stuffed apricot. You can use fresh or canned fruits drained from their juice.

MOLDED CHEESE RING

One pound cottage cheese, 1 green pepper, ¼ teaspoon onion juice, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup whipping cream, 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine, 3 tablespoons cold water.

Rub cheese through sieve. Remove seeds and pith from pepper and chop flesh. Whip cream until firm. Soften gelatine in cold water for five minutes and dissolve over hot water. Combine all the ingredients folding cream and dissolved gelatine in last. Turn into a ring mold which has been rinsed in cold water and let stand on ice for five or six hours or over night to chill and become firm. Unmold and serve with any preferred salad and mayonnaise.

Instead of molding this salad in a ring you can use it to stuff tomatoes. Prepare tomatoes for stuffing, fill with cheese mixture and let stand on ice to chill and congeal.

Be sure to salt the inside of the tomatoes after scooping out the centers and let them stand inverted for an hour before filling. This draws out the excess juice and makes the flesh firm.

STUFFED FRUITS

Choose fine large prunes, dates, cherries or larger fruits if you prefer them. Rub one-half cup cottage cheese through a sieve, season with ¼ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon white pepper and 1 drop onion juice. Work until smooth and fill cavities of fruits with mixture. Serve one or two stuffed prunes, dates or other fruits as chosen by serving one-half stuffed peach and one-half stuffed pear and one-half stuffed apricot. You can use fresh or canned fruits drained from their juice.

Tomorrow's Menu

Who Are You?

Pettus

This name is a variation of the well-known surname Petit, meaning petite ,small.

The Pettus family came from England to Virginia during the early Colonial times and established their homes. Among them, was Thomas Pettus, born in 1712, who became a member of the Virginia House of Burgesses.

Descendants of the Virginia family of Pettus wandered farther south and also to the Middle West. We find John Jones Pettus a member of the Mississippi Legislature during the nineteenth century. He was the son of John and Alice Pettus, grandson of Anthony Winston Pettus, great-grandson of Anthony Pettus, and great-great-grandson of Isaac Pettus.

John Jones Pettus was twice Governor of Mississipi, while his brother, Edmund Winston Pettus was Solicitor General of Alabama for eight years, Judge of the Circuit Court of the State, major and lieutenant colonel of the Twentieth Regiment, Alabama Infantry. He also served as brigadier general in the army of the Confederate States during the war between the States, retiring to practice law in Selma, Ala.

Descendants of these families are now widespread.

What New York Is Wearing

By Helen Williams

3175

Curiously enough a very smart feeling usually accompanies an advanced fall style for in-between-season wear. There's no denying, at any rate, that youth doesn't revel in the feeling!

So for young budding daughter, why not this fascinating dress?

You can carry it out charmingly as originally planned in grey-blue silk, finely striped in dull red with the bow and belt in plain red.

Black crepe satin is another smart choice with self-fabric belt and white bengaline bow.

See for yourself—it's child's play to make it with its easy-to-handle raglan sleeves.

Emphasize Lovely Eyes, If Mouth Is Unattractive

By GLADYS GLAD

"America's Most Famous Beauty"

A famous American artist and portrait painter recently created quite a stir in Hollywood by announcing that he could not find one single perfect beauty in the whole of the movie city. Katharine Hepburn, he pointed out, has too strong and prominent a jaw. Norma Shearer's eyes are too small and close together. Jean Harlow's features are too heavy. All the stars he insisted, are generally looked upon as being beautiful by the public. Yet not a one of them possesses all the ideal beauty points.

Perhaps that's true enough. But most stars know how to conceal their defects and they know how to create the illusion of perfect loveliness. Take Loretta Young, for instance. Loretta was very prominent teeth. But she makes this defect negligible by dispensing with the use of lipstick entirely during the daytime. And she makes up her lovely eyes skillfully, so that the observer's attention will be called to them and not to her mouth.

No girl who has prominent or protruding teeth should ever make up her mouth brilliantly. For if she does, she will immediately call attention to the imperfections of that feature. The wisest plan for her is to concentrate on perfecting the loveliness of the attractive features she possesses, so that they, rather than her mouth, will be outstanding.

A mouth that is too small for beauty can always be made to appear larger. And a mouth that is too large can be made to look smaller. It's all through the clever use of make-up. But a mouth that is marred by prominent or protruding teeth should have no attention called to it whatsoever. If any lip stick is used, it should be applied with a careful and sparing hand.

Of course, such a mouth should not be neglected entirely. The skin never should be permitted to become dry and scaly. It should through the proper use of emollients, be kept of a soft, smooth texture. And if the lips are absolutely pale and do not possess the least vestige of natural color, a bit of lipstick may be used. But in this case, the coloring should be applied very lightly, and any excess should be carefully wiped away after its application.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Manicure

Blondie: If you can't afford manicures right now, do your own manicuring. You'll find full instructions in my booklet on "Care of the Hands and Nails." There's no reason why your nails shouldn't look beautifully groomed when done by yourself, if you follow instructions.

Hand Lotion

Peggy: An excellent hand lotion can be made of equal parts of rosewater and glycerine, or of one part of glycerine and three parts of rosewater.

Mouth Wash

Marcella: An excellent mouth wash can be made by dissolving one-fourth teaspoon borax, one-fourth teaspoon of peroxide, and one-fourth teaspoon of salt in a glass of warm water.

Legs

Gretchen: The exercises in my article on "Care of the Feet and Legs" are most helpful in reducing fat, flabby thighs and thick ankles. These exercises, I regret to say, are too long to print here.

Colors

Mary L.: I think that you will find shades of brown, dull blue, tan, dark green, dark red and black most becoming to you.

A HINT FOR SILK AND WOOL

Never allow silk or wool garments to become very much soiled before washing. If you do it necessitates rubbing to remove the dirt, or using water of too high a temperature. Both heat and rubbing are bad for silk or wool. They both require tepid water and just squeezing up and down in the suds.

Your Children

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

In the cold aftermath of the annual patriotic orgy, one can take a calmer view of things—among them fireworks—than during the excited days preceding the big event.

O. R. Barton

No use beginning a campaign in June to put an end to Dominion Day celebrations. It is too late.

No use telling Johnny or his dad to keep away from the circus after the calliope has started to toot. It is the same thing with fireworks after they are on the stands. If we want to change the character of next May 24th or the year 1935, the time to begin is now. Deaths and accidents in 1934 were double those of 1933, and four times what they were in 1932.

SOME EXTRA DANGEROUS

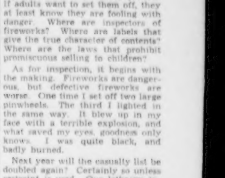

There seems to be something wrong here. Just what, it is hard to say, but one thing I have observed myself. The innocent-looking "shooting" cracker, as it used to be called, is no longer predictable. Instead of containing a bit of gunpowder, some of the smallest seem to be loaded with TNT or at least dynamite.

One instance I believe is worth quoting. A young mother bought a few innocuous-looking articles out of a box in a store counter that reminded her of the old-fashioned torpedoes. You remember—little paper bags the size of a hickory nut, filled with pebbles and a cap. They were practically harmless.

"Something the same," said the man, "only you light them at the top instead." There is no doubt that he didn't know what he was selling.

NEED SELLING RESTRICTIONS

She put one in the end of the sand-box and lit it, then turned to pull her little boy aside. Lucky she did. It blew the end off the box, a hole in the bottom and shot the sand across the yard.

My criticism is not with fireworks, but the kind made and sold to children that contain death and injury in their murderous jackets. If adults want to set them off, they at least know they are fooling with danger. Where are inspectors of fireworks? Where are labels that give the true character of contents? Where are the laws that prohibit promiscuous selling to children?

As for inspection, it begins with the making. Fireworks are dangerous, but defective fireworks are worse. One time I set off two large pinwheels. The third I lighted in the same way. It blew up in my face with a terrible explosion, and what saved my eyes, goodness only knows. I was quite black, and badly burned.

Next year will the casualty list be doubled again? Certainly not unless restraint is used. Our lethargy toward fireworks has assumed the proportions of crime.

FLAMES CRAWL DOWN HILL TO HOMES IN B.C.

Mountain Side Mile Wide Enveloped in Blaze as Bush Burns

NELSON, B.C., Aug. 8.—Ranchers and residents of summer homes on the west arm of Kootenay Lake watched with anxiety early today as forest fires edged down Mount Nelson.

The fires cover well over a mile along the mountain side and below are some forty homes. The flames on the southern end of the hill are within a half mile of the lake shore. Further along they are well above any houses, but at the most northerly point are about 200 yards from ranch property.

They are about a mile in a direct line across the lake from Nelson proper, but the roar of flames ascending the trees can be heard from the lake shore on this side.

Practical Joke Starts Damage Claim $100,000

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8. — A $100,000 damage suit was filed Tuesday by Mrs. Mary Miner Bilgood, who charged a Hollywood practical joker prevented the birth of a child to her.

Named as defendant was William Wellman, screen director, who she said pressed a button which transformed what appeared to be an "innocent looking" book into an electric chair.

Mrs. Bilgood identified herself as a stand-in for Irene Dunne, film actress.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By DAN THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 8.—Perhaps you have met up with ingenious ruses worked by down-and-outers by which they got the wherewithal for a meal or a night's lodging. But for the most ingenious of all, I think the palm goes to Guy Kibbee.

It was in St. Louis that Guy started wondering when and if he was going to eat again. Then he saw a billboard advertising a vaudeville show in which an old pal hired to play his part in the act. The policeman upheld him.

Verifying Guy's story backstage the manager immediately salved his "ruffled" feeling with a cheque for $25, to avoid any unpleasant publicity.

"That really was the best act I ever put on," declares Kibbee.

WIVES, GET ON TO THIS!

A studio writer has devised a clever method for getting out of his way appearing. The pal was glad enough to see Guy—but he also had no money.

"Listen, Charlie, I have an idea," said Kibbee. "In the middle of your act I'll play stooge from the audience and we will pull some act to stuff together."

"Okay," Charlie returned, "but I don't see how that is going to get you any money."

"Never mind. All you have to do is to admit, if anyone asks you, that I am a part of your act."

That night Guy spent his last quarter for a gallery seat. When his friend came on, he started hissing. A big "bouncer" warned him to be quiet, but Guy paid no attention and kept on with his heckling. So the "bouncer" grabbed him by the collar and threw him out of the theatre.

Outside, he found a policeman, whom he took with him to the manager's office. There Guy threatened to sue the theatre for damages, explaining that he had been nights while his better half sits home by the fireside with her knitting, or what have you. The scrivener has a friend who is a printer, so he had his friend print a flock of cards calling a special meeting of his fraternity.

Now, when he wants to go out he simply calls the printer and says, "Send me one of those cards marked for Saturday night"—or whatever night it is he wants free.

ARAB-JEWISH WAR SPREADS TO DISTRICT

More Deaths Reported in Towns Surrounding Constantine

CONSTANTINE, Algeria, Aug. 8. Fighting between Jews and Arabs has spread to towns surrounding Constantine, reports reaching here Tuesday revealed, giving rise to fears that the death toll may be considerably higher than officials have stated.

French military authorities were in complete control of the situation here Tuesday, but strengthened their forces to prevent an outbreak today when funerals are held for 27 persons killed in the rioting here between Friday and Tuesday.

Three persons were killed and five men were injured, all of them Jews, in fighting at Ain Beida, 80 miles from here. The mayor of the town also was injured when he tried to stop the battle.

A correspondent of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency after a tour of the city reported scenes of desolation and horror, including the mutilation of girls and children. He reported whole families of Jews had been locked in their homes and burned to death.

TORONTO, Aug. 8.—Mrs. R. L. Boyle, widow of the commanding officer killed leading the St. Julien charge, was chosen as their grand patron by veterans of the 10th Canadian Infantry Battalion, during their re-union here. Major Hugh C. Ferguson, D.S.O., is president.

The 10th battalion, the first Canadian unit to use the bayonet charge, at St. Julien, had the largest turnout of the 2nd Brigade, originally commanded by the late General Sir Arthur Currie. A Toronto branch was formed by the 10th during the re-union.

U.F.A. Local Is Behind Douglas Credit System

DRUMHELLER, Aug. 8—Members of the United Farmers of Alberta in the Hand Hills district are evidently enthusiastic disciples of Major Douglas and William Aberhart, as at their constituency convention held at the Hand Hills lake last week-end delegates went on record as demanding inclusion of social credit as a political plank of the provincial platform.

At the convention of the Arcadia federal constituency, held Saturday at Sunnyslope, which was attended by Hand Hills delegations, those present heard Robert Gardiner, sitting member for the district, and president of the U. F. A., give a critical reference to what he termed the "Aberhart plan" as distinguished from the social credit of Major Douglas.

It has been estimated that the temperature of the centre of the sun is not more than 180,000,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Edmonton's Speed-O-Byke Corps on Parade

Seated astride gleaming red Speed-o-Bykes, Canada's newest toy sensation, 28 Edmonton boys whizzed along Jasper avenue at noon Saturday in a parade demonstrating the little machines. Propelled in the same manner as an ordinary bicycle, these tiny "wheels" are constructed to resemble a real twin-cylinder motorcycle. The 28 Speed-o-Bykes are to be given away free during the next 10 weeks in a contest conducted by Edmonton merchants under the auspices of the Capitol theatre. The above picture shows the youngsters who paraded the machines Saturday lined up at 109 street at the C.P.R. depot before starting the procession along Jasper avenue. At the extreme left is Walter S. Wilson, manager of the Capitol theatre.

U.S. FIREMEN CROSS BORDER

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 8—United States forest fire fighters rushed into British Columbia Tuesday to help fight a blaze that threatened to spread across the boundary to the vicinity of Metaline Falls, Wash.

The American crew of 180 men will tackle the blaze at the east end in an attempt to head it off, leaving other fronts to the British Columbia fighters. No estimate of the acreage was available here.

OUT OF CONTROL

At least one fire raged out of control in Southern Idaho forests, with the danger of a strong wind might whip two others into revolt.

S. O. Schribner, forest supervisor, said only abatement of the wind would permit suppressing a 10,000-acre fire on Sheep Creek in the Idaho national forest of south central Idaho. The efforts of 300 men were unavailing.

A fire in the Salmon forest, near the cottonwood lookout station in eastern central Idaho, was controlled, having burned over 80 acres.

Uncontrolled fires in western Montana were south of Hamilton, south of Darby, on Slate Creek and on the Nelson Ridge.

OLD DELIVERY BOYS WILL GO WITH NEW ACT

Hundreds Over 18 - Year Mark Found to be Too Expensive in B.C.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 8.—Several hundred delivery boys over 18-years of age, will lose their jobs Thursday when the minimum wage scale of $12.75 per week, goes into effect, it was indicated in retlial merchants' circles Tuesday.

Business houses, it is stated, will hire younger boys to do the work now done in many cases by youths of more than 18, many of whom are supporting or helping to support families. Many employers state they can not pay $12.75 per week for delivery work.

The new scale was set by the British Columbia Board of Industrial Relations for retail store employees.

George R. Matthews, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, has communicated with the Industrial Relations Board seeking concessions for boys who would lose their jobs under the new scale.

SECOND SECTION — EDMONTON ALBERTA—WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 8, 1934 — PAGE 9

END CROWDING OF GOOD BEEF FROM MARKET

Must Convert Inferior Type of Cattle to Other Uses Stockman Says

"I am convinced that some plan will have to be worked out through the co-operation of the federal government, the provincial government and the cattle industry to convert the inferior type of Alberta cattle into fertilizer, animal and poultry food, and possibly boneless beef for the Orient, so as to stabilize the domestic market and allow the better grades of beef to sell in place of these inferior grades which owing to their cheapness are crowding good beef off the market," stated H. P. Kennedy of Toronto, president of the Canada Stockyards, Limited, and the Union Stockyards of Saskatoon, Limited, in an interview Wednesday in Mr. Kennedy is in Edmonton after having made a business trip to the Pacific coast. He is leaving Edmonton at the end of the week to visit Saskatoon and Winnipeg.

UNDESIRABLE CATTLE

"There are a great many undesirable and inferior cattle coming into the market at the present time, especially from the drought area. These cattle are naturally selling at the lowest price and displacing the proper class of cattle in the consumer's market. I understand that all interested parties are at present trying to solve this problem in the interests of the farmers of Alberta," said Mr. Kennedy.

"What is the situation in regard to the domestic and foreign markets for Canadian cattle at the present time?" was asked.

"The outlet at present for Canadian cattle is limited. It is confined to the domestic market and to the British market. The British government has put a quota against us with the result that the number that can be exported to Great Britain is not large," replied Mr. Kennedy.

"The market for western Canadian stockers and feeders is confined to Ontario farmers and farmers of the northern sections of the three prairie provinces. The shortage of pastures in Ontario, the fact that grass has not yet harvested after drought conditions in the southern areas of the prairie provinces has given rise to a situation where there is scarcely any demand at the moment and prices on the different markets have receded down to the lowest figure that has ever prevailed at this time of year."

NO DEMAND

"We have just returned from the Pacific Coast and I may say that there is no demand there at present for Alberta cattle as far as we could determine from the information which we received. The supply of B.C. cattle is sufficient for domestic trade in the coast cities until December. There will be some demand in British Columbia for feeders in the late autumn of the year and a good demand for grain fed butcher cattle during the winter months," Mr. Kennedy stated.

"With reference to hogs, prices ruling at the present time are most profitable to the farmers and prospects are for continual good prices. The supply is still a way short of the demand for Canadian bacon under the quota agreement with Great Britain."

Prospects for the livestock industry in the Edmonton district are bright compared to other parts of Canada, said Mr. Kennedy.

The crops in the Edmonton district are the finest that I have seen in my travels across Canada. There should be a plentiful balance of feed and a demand for stockers and feeders as soon as the harvest is off which will provide an outlet for a large percentage of the choice young cattle and heifers that will have to be moved from the southern part of the province," he said.

INQUIRIES MADE

"Several inquiries have been made to A. W. Burrell, manager of the Edmonton Stock Yards, for accommodation of cattle to the market for the feeding of several thousand choice breeding steers. This demand has come from experienced feeders in other districts who see the opportunity and advantage of the abundance of feed in this district and also the low cost of these choice young breeding steers.

"When I was here last October I strongly urged farmers to finish their young cattle. Several thousand were finished which on the whole was most profitable to the feeders."

Mr. Kennedy expressed the view that general business conditions showed a definite improvement in the past eight months throughout Canada.

Extensive Discussion Expected on Whether Social Credit Exponent Should be Brought Back

Whether the Douglas system of social credit will be adopted as a policy by the United Farmers of Alberta as a party platform will probably be one of the major items set down for discussion at the U.F.A. caucus to be held here on Thursday and Friday.

U.F.A. members of parliament, members of the legislature and of the central U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. executives will be in attendance.

At the last session of the legislature, Major C. H. Douglas, originator and chief exponent of the "Douglas System" appeared before the members, sitting in committee of the whole, and gave an exposition of his theories on rehabilitating the world's economics.

Recently Norman F. Priestly, vice president of the U.F.A. organization spoke urging that Major Douglas be brought back to Edmonton for further exposition of his system.

It is expected that extensive discussion will take place on this question when the members gather in the morning and also attend as expected in by Thursday morning.

W. H. Shield, U.F.A. member for Macleod already is here and others were arriving throughout Wednesday. Premier R. G. Reid who has been holidaying at Victoria for the last two weeks will return in time to attend the opening session.

GARDINER TO ATTEND

Robert Gardiner, M.P. for Acadia and president of the U.F.A., is here as will other members of both parliament and the legislature.

Much discussion is also expected to take place regarding the probable dates of the next Dominion and provincial elections.

Close political observers feel that the provincial government is anxious to make its appeal to the country before the Dominion and there will be an exchange of information as to probable dates. Both governments must go to the country not later than autumn of next year. The provincial general election was on June 19, 1930, and the Dominion the following month.

LIKE TO HAVE START

It is believed the provincial government would like to have about the same start on the Dominion next time.

General provincial financing, the new Markheid Act, the crop outlook and distribution of grain will be other matters to be discussed.

SEEKS CUSTODY OF DAUGHTER

A Seattle man, Adrian Stanley Belzo, appointed by Mr. Justice Tweedie in civil supreme court on Wednesday with a petition to obtain custody of his two-year-old daughter, Caroline Sinclair Bond, now in the care of Mrs. Frank Bellamy, of Edmonton, grandmother of the little girl, and mother, respectively, of the deceased mother of the child.

Bond supported his case by a number of affidavits on file in the court of King county, state of Washington, advancing reasons for custody of his daughter. He had been the husband of Anne Bellamy Bond, formerly of Edmonton, before deceased, but separated from her husband prior to her death.

Despite strong argument between opposing counsel and the production of many documents by both sides, the case was still not decided at noon, and His Lordship ordered the case to go on again in the afternoon.

Colonel F. C. Jamieson, K.C., and Kenneth Jamieson acted for Belzo, while Mrs. Bellamy is represented by J. N. McDonald and F. C. Cassleman.

Police Court

The court was "tough" Wednesday morning with reckless driving before Belzo taking it on the chin to the tune of suspension of his driver's license for one year and a fine of $15 and costs for negligence.

Belzo pleaded guilty and the court was told that while driving his car last July 27 he had knocked down and injured Mrs. Williams near the Canadian National railways depot.

"Reckless accidents," commented Magistrate Esten Williams in penalizing Belzo.

Jack Crawford, who police swore tore along the Cooking Lake Trail early Sunday morning at a 50-mile-an-hour clip and kept going when he was "flagged" to stop, fought a speeding charge which was adjourned to Monday.

Crawford's defence was that he passed along the road an hour later than police said he did, and that his speed was not above 40 miles per hour.

"The last place I want to send a boy is to jail," the judge said, remarked the magistrate as he suspended sentence for one year on a charge of theft by conversion against guilty to stealing a drawer containing $2.75 from a downtown tobacco store.

The fact that he had made restitution was a suspended sentence of six months for C. E. Jones, salesman, who pleaded guilty to a charge of theft by conversion of $55 from Gertrude E. Davidson. The prosecution alleged that the dog had bitten a small boy, the owner charging that the dog had been teased.

"Why he's such a gentle pet that the nurse in the children's ward at the Royal Alexandra hospital began me to bring him up to amuse the kids," pleaded Nozuk before Prosecutor Popple demanded the "pooch" be muzzled.

Nozuk was allowed to go with a warning.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

It has already been announced that when the new Central Bank of Canada comes into being, the new currency issued will be smaller in size than that now in circulation. Bills will not even be smaller than the present-day American bills.

"What do you think of the proposal?" was today's question.

The replies follow:

"HEAR-LESS" HAROLD McMASTERS, the unknown undertaker who is now an outdoor advertising executive: "Leave 'em alone. I don't see many of 'em as 'tis right now let alone when they are made smaller. By the way, yuh don't know where I could get a hold of a couple of hundred bucks, do yuh? (The answer was No!) Oh, well, what will happen to the shin plasters?"

HAROLD GOLDSWORTHY, cash register salesman: "It doesn't matter much though, but I suppose it would help business for a little while, anyway, putting in new cash drawers."

KEN McKENZIE, insurance salesman: "I don't care about the size of the bills, all I am interested in is their purchasing power, so that they'll stretch. Make them narrower and longer—that would help."

ROY CARWELL, financial agent: "So long as the government does not start to mint large cartwheels I will be satisfied. Experience has proved that American currency is not nearly as bulky as that in circulation in Canada. But that has its drawbacks. Anyone having ten one dollar bills in his country has his pocket full and therefore feels rich, while in the States the same amount does not give the same buoyant feeling."

ARTHUR JURIET, stereotyper: "Say, I'll take wooden money if it will help pay the rent. I'm not the size of the money that I am interested in, it's what it will buy."

High pressure stock selling by long distance telephone is becoming a racket in Edmonton, Superintendent Dixon warns all persons interested in mining and other stocks and communicate with them by telephoning a full report of the wonders of new strikes and offering them an opportunity to get "in on the ground floor."

Wednesday morning no less than three such calls came through from Winnipeg to speculators offering stock at bargain prices in a new find which, according to the long distance salesman, assayed $3,000 to the ton.

His efforts were vain, as the speculators said the proposition was too good for them to even put money into it.

NO DEFINITE INSTRUCTIONS PARKS WORKS

J. M. Wardle, Chief Engineer, Knows Government Planning Program

No definite instructions have as yet been issued with regard to the federal government's proposal to put 1,000 unemployed married men from Edmonton and Calgary to work on the Banff-Jasper highway, J. M. Wardle, chief engineer for the National parks, declared Wednesday. He left for Jasper after a brief stopover here.

"I know the government is planning a works program in the parks but all I know of the latest proposal is what I've read in the newspapers. I have received no definite instructions yet," the engineer official said.

He stated that 57 miles of the Banff-Jasper highway had already been gravelled, 40 miles from the Jasper end and 17 miles from the Banff end having been completed.

The federal government is continuing its relief projects in the mountain parks this summer mainly of road repair work. During the winter there were 3,700 unemployed single men working in the parks, but during the summer months this total was cut to 1,500. Many of the single men leave the work camps during August for employment in the harvest fields.

Mr. Wardle is making one of his periodical trips to Jasper.

FLOWER SHOW TO BE OUTSTANDING

The most outstanding event of August 9 Edmonton is the annual flower show of the Edmonton Horticultural Society. After being in residence for 15 years, the show is at the present time able to put on a flower show second to none in the province of Alberta.

A generous prize list encourages exhibitors and growers generally to purchase and grow annuals and plants of the highest quality, with the result that the annual show is one continuous display of the most beautiful that nature in this wonderful climate of ours can provide.

Flowers of the finest texture and beauty, vegetables of the highest quality and fruit in season will be shown to the citizens of Edmonton on August 21, 22 and 23.

Not only does the society cater to experienced and practical growers, there is one exhibition devoted to amateurs, that is, bwinners who are growing gardens for the first time, or for pleasure. The society desires to encourage this class and hopes this year to make the novice section one of the outstanding features in the show.

In addition to the actual exhibits, full entertainment program is being arranged every evening.

EXPECT HEAVY WHEAT YIELDS IN PEACE AREA

Edmontonian Completes a 2,000-Mile Tour of the North Country

Wheat yields in certain sections of the Peace River territory will be between 40 and 50 bushels to the acre, while oats will return between 80 and 110 bushels, according to C. A. Buchanan, district superintendent for the Canada Colonization Association, who returned Wednesday morning after completing a 2,000-mile inspection trip in that country.

CROPS EXCELLENT

Harvest operations will be general by the end of this week or early next week, and all crops are in an excellent state of growth. The yields mentioned above are from summerfallow fields, with spring plowing and stubble lands showing a much lighter yield.

Crops are particularly good in the Griffin Creek and Rita Lodge districts north of the Peace, and from South Saddle Hills to Hythe on the South Side.

Farmers in these districts state that given 75 cent wheat and 25 cent oats on the farm that they will clear $10,000 gross from a section.

Mr. Buchanan stated that outlying districts had been hard hit through the sowing of frozen seed, 70 per cent of which failed to germinate. He also reports that considerable progress had been made clearing farms in the heavily timbered areas.

Compulsory Pension Scheme Suggested In Toronto Report

Recommending the adoption of a compulsory pension and annuities scheme for all employes, Geo. W. Wilson, commissioner of finance for the city of Toronto, in a report to the aldermanic board of that city, has suggested that the employes, the employer and the state each contribute toward the cost of such a plan. Commissioner Lionel Mitchell in a report a copy of Toronto's annual report recently.

This compilation shows that the eastern city spent $2,400,000 on direct relief during 1933. Dealing with this phase of the administration, Mr. Wilson reported that relief appeared to be a more or less permanent problem and a responsibility of the federal government and that the municipalities were being forced to assume a disproportionate share of the burden.

He recommended the segregation of the employable and the unemployable classes and work tests for the employable in the purpose of weeding out the slackers. The three governments should contribute equally in the maintenance of those on relief who could work, while the federal and provincial governments should assume the whole cost of the unemployables, the municipality being relieved of this expense altogether, he suggested.

ST. PAUL ASKS CONSTRUCTION PRIMARY ROAD

Delegation Urges Main Highway From Edmonton to That Point

Construction of a primary highway from Edmonton to St. Paul north of the Saskatchewan river was requested by a delegation which interviewed Hon. J. J. MacLellan, minister of public works on Wednesday. The delegation was headed by Isidore Goresky, U.F.A. member of the legislature for Whitford. Represented were the districts of Smoky Lake, St. Paul and others as well as the Edmonton and North Eastern Highways Association.

140 MILES LONG

Mr. Goresky pointed out that the highway they were asking for was more desirable than the present route, south of the river to Lamont and Vegreville and crossing the river near Brosseau.

The highway requested would be 140 miles long.

Previous delegations from the same district had asked for a secondary, not a primary road.

The M.D. of Smoky Lake agreed to pay 40 per cent of construction costs within its area.

Another delegation, from the Coronation district, asked for the grading and gravelling of the highway from Coronation to Compeer, about 20 miles. Grading is completed from Lacombe to Coronation and gravelling is all but completed. It was urged that the highway be completed to Compeer which is at the Saskatchewan border.

George N. Johnson, U.F.A. member for Coronation, headed the delegation.

BUTTER GRADING RULES APPROVED

Regulations providing for butter grading under Dominion government supervision have been approved by the Dominion administration, according to information received here.

Under the Dominion act, each province desiring the service must have enabling legislation.

Alberta applied for the service conditionally upon British Columbia doing likewise.

The Alberta enabling legislation was duly passed, but the last session of the B.C. house proposed without similar action being taken there.

In the meantime, pending passage of legislation in B. C., Alberta has decided to put the regulations into effect applied here which may mean a delay of several months.

Wee Scouty eyed the man and said, "Gee, but you have a funny head. Who are you, and how did you come afloating from that tree?"

"Why, you've no legs. How do you stand? Look out, sir, or you'll fall and land right on the ground." The man replied, "Oh, don't you fret 'bout me.

"I float around both here and there, along the ground or in the air. If I want legs, they pop right out and then I walk with ease.

"Folks call me Mystic, 'cause I do a lot of tricks. They're clever, too. If you are good, I'll show you some." I know that they will please."

"Oh, fine," cried Dotty. "We like stunts. We say a fine magician, once. He made a great big rabbit come right from wee Duncy's hat. "The rabbit on its hind legs reared and then it promptly disappeared. I wonder, Mr. Mystic, could you do a trick like that?"

"Ha, ha!" The man laughed long and loud. Then he said to the Tiny crowd, "Why, I will do a better trick. Give me that hat right now."

Wee Duncy took it from his head. He held it out, and then he said, "Please give it back real soon, or else the sun will scorch my brow."

The man just smiled and snapped. "Don't fret. In just a moment you will get your hat back. Now, please watch me, as I wave it in the air.

"A pretty sight you're going to see." And then he loudly shouted "Whee!" What happened startled all the bunch, and Windy cried, "Look there!"

Five birds flew out of Duncy's hat. "Well, tots, what do you think of that!" exclaimed ol' Mystic. "Watch the birds! I'll make them fly back in."

It wasn't very long until the five birds did. My, what a thrill! The way the Tinies eyes popped out made Mister Mystic grin.

A school teacher asked the pupils to write a short essay and to choose their own subjects.

A little girl sent in the following paper:

"My subjek is 'Ants.' Ants is of two kinds, insects and lady bugs.

"Sometimes they live in holes and sometimes they crawl into the sugar bole, and sometimes they live with their married sisters.

"That is all I know about ants."

Free Parking Lot Set Up For Horses

LATTA, S.C., Aug. 8.—Horses and mules haven't capitulated to the automobile after all.

For the convenience of farmers, who come to town in great numbers on Saturdays, citizens of Latta set apart a tract near the business center and fitted it with hitching posts.

Just so there will be no mistaking the lot is identified by a big sign that reads "Free landing field for horses and mules."

FUCHOW NOW FEARS RAIDERS

HONG KONG, Aug. 8.—Foreigners in Fuchow, Chinese treaty port, today were reported alarmed by rumors that Communist troops had reached a point within three miles of the port.

Aboard the British destroyer Witch, anchored in the harbor, however, the alarm was believed to have been inspired by raiding bandits without any connection with the Communists. No action on the part of British authorities was expected.

Jury Fixes Blame For Warden's Death

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Aug. 8.—In an open verdict delivered after less than 10 minutes' deliberation, a coroner's jury investigating the death of Patrick Doolan, 53-year-old chief keeper at the Saskatchewan penitentiary, last night declared Doolan came to his death from gangrene and shock following injury to his arm in an automobile accident.

Police are of the belief Doolan was a passenger in a car driven by Robert W. Williams, penitentiary steward, which struck a parked truck. Doolan's arm was so seriously injured amputation was necessary. Williams has been charged with driving a car while intoxicated.

Model In Sugar

MONTREAL, Aug. 8.—An illuminated model in sugar of the liner Ausonia, complete even to the red funnels, occupied a prominent place in the dining-room of the liner when it sailed from here recently. It was the work of G. Crossfield, a chef on board, and required three months to complete.

CANTERBURY, England, Aug. 8.—On the jubilee of the ordination of Cardinal Francis Bourne a cheque for $13,000, with a book containing names of the donors, was presented by the St. Augustine Society.

Natives of the Far East still consume acorns; they are baked, shelled, ground and cooked like bread.

MAJOR CRIME AT LOW EBB IN EDMONTON

Only One Robbery, Safeway Store Stick-up, Here During July

Apart from the Safeway store stick-up which netted two masked gunmen $300 after locking seven persons in the refrigerator, the city was free of major crime during July, according to Police Chief Shute's monthly report made to city commissioners Wednesday.

Arrests decreased 14 from the previous month to 105 and summons cases dropped 23 to 116. The city collected $508 from police court fines, $70 being paid in for by-law breaches, $93 for violation of the Traffic Act, $280 under the Liquor Control Act and $66 paid into H. S. Reynold's traffic "fineteria."

TEN INJURED

Ten persons were injured in 100 traffic accidents reported to police, there being no fatalities. The coroner's officer probed two deaths, one accidental and one suicide and held no inquests.

Property valued at $3,360 was stolen in 178 theft cases and of that, $6,257 worth was restored to rightful owners.

The detective department investigated 288 complaints, a decrease from 293 for July of 1933.

HOUSE-BREAKINGS

Twenty-three cases of house and shop breaking featured the month's crime bill, the robbers making a clean sweep through the city, netting themselves thousands of dollars worth of furnishings and silverware before moving on to Saskatoon. This gang apparently followed the exhibition around the circuit, first being heard from in Calgary.

Additions made to photograph and fingerprint files in the Bureau of Identification totalled close to 700.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—No important changes in European crop estimates have been made during the past few days. The total crop of wheat in the four Danubian countries—Roumania, Hungary, Jugo Slavia and Bulgaria, is indicated to be around 250,000,000, compared with 364,640,000 harvested last year, and exports this season will undoubtedly be small. The quality of the wheat this year however is good. Wheat yields in France are very irregular but estimates of the crop are maintained around 296,000,000 bushels compared with last year's official estimate of 339,000,000. In Germany wheat yields are only medium and the total out-turn will be much below last year's large crop of 206,000,000 with early indications pointing to a reduction of around 60,000,000. Italian wheat crop is estimated to be around 240,000,000 compared with 298,000,000 last year. Wheat crop in Spain is well over average with early estimates indicating a crop of around 173,000,000 compared with 138,000,000 last year.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—An extra dividend for general motors stockholders was forecast here last Thursday, but, candidly, I nor anyone else that I know of anticipated an extra dividend to the tune of fity cents a share. That the action of the company's board of directors took the speculative community by surprise is putting it mildly. The surprising news may be viewed as being directly accountable for the opening strength witnessed in yesterday's session. That the opening strength was not sustained to the close might have been disappointing to you but it certainly was not expected. News of that nature invariably results in gap openings that are speedily lost and instead of providing a general rally, usually causes but a flurry and the improvement in prices on the list as a whole may well be termed sympathetic improvement. I still believe that the market is going to be subjected to more selling pressure than we have witnessed in the past three sessions, before there will be any justification for predicting a bottom or rally.

Two Notable Englishwomen Die In London

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—Deaths of two outstanding British women, Dame Jessie Phipps and Mrs. C. S. Peel, were reported today in London cables to the New York Times.

Dame Phipps, first woman chairman of the London county council's education committee, died yesterday of a heart attack. She was 79.

Mrs. Peel was one of the foremost of Britain's domestic journalists and a shrewd chronicler of social changes. Her early associations were with the magazine "Woman," when it was edited for Arnold Bennett, whose advice on the technique of writing proved invaluable for Lord Northcliffe who, it is reported, paid her the highest salary ever offered to a woman writer.

WHEAT PRICES ARE BOOSTED TO TOP LEVEL

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8—Strength in outside markets gave further buoyancy to futures prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today boosting wheat close to the year's top level with net gains of ⅞-⅝ cent.

Final figures were within ⅛ cent of the day's peak prices, with October at 94⅛, December at 95⅜ and May at 99⅜-½ cents.

The southern market gained about 1½ cents before the last hour and other outside markets were steady. Liverpool ended ⅛d higher to ⅛d lower and Buenos Aires at noon showed gains of more than two cents.

Export sales of Canadian wheat were small though the volume of trade through the pit was of fair proportions.

Cash grains came in for good support at improved premiums while coarse grains reflected strength in wheat.

Alberta Sending Four Golfers East For Interprovincial Team Match

PATS and PANS by BILL LEWIS

Alberta will be strongly represented when the inter-provincial golf team match is staged in good ol' Montreal next week. . . . Officials named Bobby Proctor, provincial, city and Mayfair club champion; A. W. "Whit" Matthews, veteran clubmate of Proctor's at Mayfair; and the two Calgarians, Stew Vickers and Lionel Morrison, for the team to go east. . . . There doesn't seem to be many flaws in that array of talent. . . . Every member of the squad has held an Alberta title at least once in recent years and three of the four are promising youngsters of the up-and-at-'em type. . . .

Winning the interprovincial match is no easy task, as the various provinces are sending strong lineups to the meet, but you can be sure that this Alberta team will be in close and may take the pot. . . . They have plenty of ability and a few breaks would give them their chance. . . .

Just what can be expected in the way of professional hockey this winter in indicated in the announcement made yesterday by President Gordon Leitch of Portland, who stated that the Northwestern circuit would operate again, with another city being added, thus making six in the group. . . . Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, Portland and Seattle made up the league last season, and it will probably be Spokane that will be the new entry. . . . Efforts have been made in the past to have Spokane represented in the Northwestern League. . . .

The lean first-sacker who has played such starry roles here in the past with House of David—John Tucker—comes back to the city tomorrow with the rest of the bearded troup, who are to clash with a team of local all-stars. . . . Tucker is a prime favorite with the customers here and his appearance tomorrow night will be the signal for a real welcome. . . .

Cubs' chances in the senior league baseball race received a harsh blow yesterday when their manager and star performer, long Don Conklin, received orders to report back to his post as grain buyer in Eston, Saskatchewan. . . . Heads of the club have been relying on Conklin to carry the team into the playoff and to a possible triumph in the finals, but they will now have a hard time without him. . . . The big fellow left for Eston this morning. . . . It is possible, however, that he may return for any Sunday games the Cubs are scheduled to play. . . .

Rain last night washed out the scheduled game between Cubs and South Side Athletics, and this will not be played before Friday at the earliest.

Canada took all the glory in the British Empire Games swimming events yesterday when Phyllis Dewar, the Moose Jaw lass, and George Burleigh of Toronto captured the feature races of the meet.

Court Approves Book Entering

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The United States circuit court of appeals by a two to one decision Tuesday upheld the right of Ramdom House to import James Joyce's "Ulysses." The court in its ruling joined Federal Judge John M. Woolsey in holding the book is not lewd, immoral or obscene.

SEEDED STARS WILL PROVIDE THRILLS TODAY

Many Good Matches Are Expected on Today's Program — Rain Stops Play on Tuesday

By JOHN OLIVER

As a result of Tuesday's play, several quarter finalists were decided in all major events in the provincial tennis championships tournament, now in progress at the Glenora club courts here, and on Wednesday the seeded stars will commence bumping up aginst one another.

Despite a heavy downpour of rain at noon and in the early afternoon, a considerable number of matches were run off.

Commencing with Wednesday afternoon the quarter finalists in open events will tangle.

PROMISING BATTLES

In the lower half of the draw in the men's open singles, three of the four quarter finalists have been decided, namely Bill Stark of Calgary and Southern Alberta and Western Canada champion; W. E. Harrison, former Winnipeg and Manitoba champion, and John Oliver. The other quarter finalist in the lower half will be either Douglas Gunn, Calgary city champion, or Charlie O'Neill, Calgary, who will play on Wednesday morning.

The winner of the Gunn-O'Neill match plays Oliver at 2 p.m. while on the 5 p.m. draw there should be a thriller with Stark meeting Harrison. The winner will pass into the semi-final.

The upper half of the draw is a round behind. Kinloch meets Andy Purcell, former junior hockey star, and the winner will play Fred Mitchell. George McFadzean, Stettler, is waiting in the "eights" to play the winner of Fraser Goddard-Harry Gardler.

Quarter finalists in the women's open singles have been decided. They are paired today as follows: Mrs. Vic Johnson vs. Mrs. George Lewis; Mrs. M. Snidal, Calgary, vs. Mrs. George Taylor; Mrs. Cecil Eustace vs. K. W. Wright; Bessie McAvoy vs. Gertrude Peterson, Calgary.

SHOULD BE THRILL

A thriller in the men's open doubles should be the "eights" match between the strong Calgary pair of Gunn-Stark and McFadzean-Forhan, Stettler.

Another men's doubles match that should produce sparks is that between Dunsworth-Mitchell and Blyth-Gardler.

In the Ferris cup, R. Hincks, Calgary, faces a tough assignment in Tom Forhan, former B. C. junior champion.

Margot Thomson, stylish young Calgarian, will finish her match with the dashing Mary Connelly of Drumheller. They started on Tuesday evening and Miss Thomson captured the first set at 6-3 and was leading 1-0 in the second set when rain halted play.

Douglas Gunn advanced to the sixteens by defeating F. E. Brissette at 6-4, 6-2. Brissette started off in whirlwind fashion and took the first three games of the first set. He weakened as Gunn got his heavy artillery working and the Calgary singles champion then steadily gained the upper hand.

Oliver advanced to the eights by defeating F. W. Robinson, former Pacific coast star, at 6-2, 6-2.

In the men's singles, Harrison-Forbes, Edmonton doubles champions, defeated Richard-Waters at 6-1, 7-5.

In the mixed doubles Harold Costello-Margot Thomson, Calgary, won over the Brown-Smith team at 6-1, 6-0.

Tuesday's results and the Wednesday draw are as follows:

BASEBALL'S BIG SIX

Heinie Manush gained and Lou Gehrig lost in the Big Six batting race yesterday, reversing the order of the past few days and giving the Washington clouter a 16-point margin. Manush lifted his average just one point when he hit twice in four attempts in the first game of a doubleheader. Gehrig, playing in both games, went to the plate nine times for one hit and dropped six points to .374. Charley Gehringer also gained a point with two hits in four times up, while Bill Terry and Mel Ott got one out of three to keep their marks unchanged. Paul Waner's one in four cost him a point.

NORTH, SOUTH REPRESENTED ON GOLF TEAM

Proctor and Matthews on Squad Named To Go To Montreal

This province will be represented in the inter-provincial team match, held annually in conjunction with the Canadian amateur golf championships, by the regulation squad of four players, it was decided at a special meeting of the Alberta Golf Association yesterday.

Two golfers from Edmonton and the same number from Calgary will leave for the east tonight to take part in the championships, which will be held in Montreal next week.

Those chosen were Bobby Proctor and A. W. "Whit" Matthews of Mayfair Golf and Country Club, and Lionel Morrison and Stew Vickers, of Calgary.

ARRAY OF CHAMPIONS

Proctor is holder of the Mayfair, Edmonton and Alberta amateur championships, while Matthews was runner-up to him in the city event. Morrison won the provincial open title last year, while Vickers was holder of the provincial amateur in 1932 and 1933.

This quartet is expected to give Alberta the strongest kind of representation in the team match, as well as making a real bid for the title individually.

Proctor has been particularly "hot" this summer, as indicated by his successive triumphs in tournament play. He has not failed in any tournament in which he has started. His supporters look for him to be a real threat in the east.

Matthews, a veteran of competitive play in major events, will give the team experience and balance, as well as plenty of good golf.

CALGARIANS GOOD

The two Calgarians, although young, have had a lot of experience and are accustomed to the tough going in tournament play. Their records prove their class.

With a team of that calibre, officials of the association have few worries but that Alberta will make a good showing in the match.

Edmonton Pats Playing Camrose Troopers Today

Edmonton Pats will invade Camrose today endeavoring to wipe out the loss suffered Saturday at the hands of the Troopers, when the visitors eked out a 7-6 victory. Judging by the expressions of determination in the Patricia camp the local squad will not lack caution when they enter today's contest.

Winnie Gallen will be sent into the pitching box with plenty of responsibility on her hands but her record shows that she is worthy of the assignment. In any case it should be another great battle.

Three of the games played between these teams this year have resulted in scores with only a difference of 1 or 2 runs, these being: 7-6, 8-6, 7-6.

If the Pats are winners of the game played at 3:00 p.m. another game will be necessary and it will be played in the evening.

BEARDED BASEBALL TEAM WILL OPPOSE LOCALS THURSDAY

House of David to Clash with Senior All-Star Aggregation

John Tucker, the same bearded individual who gave such a pleasing performance at first base before an Edmonton crowd a year ago, will be back here guarding the initial sack in an exhibition game between the House of David and an All-Star squad from senior ranks at Renfrew Park Thursday, starting at 6:30 o'clock.

Besides featuring the brilliant Tucker, the House of David squad will be seen in their "pepper game" an exhibition that gave Edmonton fans no little amount of enjoyment during the visit of these bearded beauties a year ago.

An attraction will be the appearance of Bud Spiesman, ace pitcher who performed for the championship Cubs last year, in a House of David uniform. Whether the tall twirler who gathered such a large following of local fans last year has also accustomed himself to a flowing growth on the lower part of his jaw, or has his hair long and braided is not as yet known to the local baseball fraternity. He will, however, be seen in action for the bearded lads Thursday.

MANY OTHER STARS

Besides Tucker, there are many starry players on the House of David lineup, most prominent being Anderson and Tully, who line up with the brilliant first sacker for their "pepper game." These two players share in the praise the Israelites receive on the transcontinental tour, which takes in leading baseball circles in Canada and the United States.

The local All-Star team is a strong aggregation chosen by the league officials. The bearded beauties will have to be at their best to turn aside the team chosen by the Senior league for what promises to be a great ball game.

LOBLICK TO PITCH

Herman Loblick, one of the ace hurlers of the league, is expected to start mound duties for the local crew and will be given great support by a strong fielding department.

A new type of English lifeboat will not sink, will right itself in 25 seconds if overturned, and its motors will run even when the boat is filled with water, since they are encased in water-proof shells.

JAMES EWART WINS HONORS IN BOWLING

Defeats J. A. McTavish in Finals of Ramsey Trophy

James Ewart, clever bowler of the Patricia club, took first place honors in the Ramsey trophy yesterday in the provincial lawn bowling tournament being contested over the greens of the four leading clubs here. At a late hour last night bowlers continued play in the various events and many good matches were contested. Finals in three remaining events are expected to be played today.

J. A. McTavish of the Edmonton Club played well in the Ramsey competition and provided Ewart with stiff opposition throughout the final and took second place K. Emms of the C.P.R. club third and A. Edmonds of Alberta Avenue fourth.

At a late hour last night, James Bennett of the Highlands Club and B. McCready of the Patricia greens ended all square and will battle for first place in the National Home Furnishers event today. Third place will be taken by either Dr. Conklin of the Edmonton club or George Hughes of Calgary.

In the visitors competition which has the T. Eaton trophy at stake, J. Gray of Medicine Hat defeated W. A. Ackland of Calgary to take a place in the semi-finals. G. Hughes of Calgary and P. Gull of Medicine Hat will play in the other semi-final bracket, which was expected to start at 9:00 o'clock. J. Bull of Calgary defeated W. F. Howard, also of the foothills city, to place in the final which will be played around 1:00 o'clock today.

Complete results are expected to be made known after today's play.

NORTHWESTERN HOCKEY LEAGUE TO OPERATE AGAIN

TIGERS RALLY FOR 12-8 WIN OVER BROWNS

American League Leaders Have Great Finish Yesterday

DETROIT, Aug. 8.—Although they temporarily lost the services of Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, their ace pitcher, and were forced to trail St. Louis Browns for six innings, the Tigers put on a whirlwind finish here yesterday to take their series opener 12-8.

Rowe was relieved in the first inning when he suffered a "stitch" in his back, which Trainer Denny Carroll attributed to a cold.

Yankees Split With Senators

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.— After extending their winning streak to five straight games with a ninth-inning rally that netted them a 9-8 decision in the first game of a doubleheader yesterday, the Yankees were mowed down by Washington's slugging attack in the second encounter and lost 6-3.

The defeat cost the Yanks a half-game in their pennant race with Detroit Tigers, leaving them a game and a half behind Mickey Cochrane's victorious club.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—A 15-hit attack against three Cleveland hurlers gave the White Sox an 8-2 victory yesterday in the opening game of a short series.

Athletics Beat Boston Red Sox

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—Piling up a dozen hits behind six walks, a pair of errors and a bit batsman, the Athletics opened their home stand with a 9-4 win over Boston Red Sox yesterday in the first contest on a three-game series.

The Mackmen pounded Henry Johnson out of the box for scoring five runs in the first two innings.

NATIONAL

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—New York Giants scored the outpouring of their National neighbors, Brooklyn Dodgers, yesterday, but they had to come from behind to win 6-4 in one mighty swat by Mel Jackson and a masterful relief pitching by Carl Hubbell. Boston Portsider Defeats Phillies

BOSTON, Aug. 8.—Big Ed Brandt, Boston Braves' effective portsider, let the Phils down with seven scattered hits yesterday to win by a score of 5-1.

The game, the first of a series of two, also settled the record in total innings, when the Braves scored all of their three runs.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8.—Arky Vaughan's smoking homer into the right field stands in the first inning of the two on base gave the Pirates a 4-1 victory Tuesday over Chicago Cubs, who fell four full games behind the speeding Giants in the National League pennant race.

Lloyd Waner had greeted Bill Lee with a single. An error on brother Paul Waner's bunt put two on base. Fred Lindstrom forced Paul at second and then Vaughan lofted the ball into the stands.

North Edmonton Plays Empire Red Sox on Home Lot

North Edmonton will be battling to draw nearer the second place National Home Squad when they clash with Empire Hotel Red Sox in a scheduled game in the Big Five league at the Northend diamond tonight. The game will start at 6:30 o'clock.

The Northenders trail Nationals by only a small margin and a winning decision will place them right up near the second place nine and will give them a stronger hold on a play-off berth.

EATONS MEET RADIAL TEAM FINAL MATCH

Store Eleven Strengthened By Signing New Star Outside Left

It will be a strengthened eleven that faces Radials in the final round of the local series in the Alberta Challenge cup competition as Eatons line up against the railwaymen tonight at Diamond Park. The kick-off is timed for 6:45 o'clock with Dick Ball refereeing.

Eatons signed Jimmy Taylor, outside left, who played with Winnipeg Scottish, and the signing of this new player will add much strength to the second division eleven.

Tonight's game is the replay match, following the 1-1 deadlock played to by these teams last Saturday, and a good brand of soccer is scheduled for this final tilt.

TEAMS STAGE WEST SOCCER FINAL TONIGHT

Prince Albert Reds Clash with Winnipeg Weston in Deciding Game

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8.—Prince Albert City Reds and United Weston, defender and challenger respectively for the province's soccer championship, will meet tonight in the deciding game of a three-game series.

The Mackmen pounded Henry Johnson out of the box for scoring five runs in the first two innings.

Pre-game predictions were few but experts gave the Northerners the edge in the fourth game. Manitoba's chances were believed handicapped by injury had to Hodgett, Weston centre-forward.

The star pivot for Weston was carried off the field Monday night with an injured ankle. An examination after the game revealed a bad sprain that will keep a valuable player out of the game for the remainder of the series.

Winner of tonight's game will earn the right to joust with Verdun Park, speedy Quebec team, for the Dominion final to be played here.

HEAVY GOING FOR HORSES AT WINNIPEG

But Racing Is Formful In Spite of Handicap on Tuesday

RIVER PARK, WINNIPEG, Aug. 8.—The weather broke sharply around 2 p.m. Tuesday afternoon and a thunderstorm, accompanied by heavy rains, kept the populace, except a thousand or so of the faithful, away from the River Park race track.

The downpour fortunately ceased before 3:00, but the damage was done. The track was in a greasy, cuppy, slowish condition, but, for all that, the racing was formful and entertaining. There were nose and neck finishes to three contests.

M. Terry rode three winners; Du Pre and Collins a couple each.

The Merchants' Handicap, feature of the card, produced not only an exciting race, but a thrilling finish. Scotia's Flag broke fastest and led throughout to just last by a nose under Collins' stout drive. McGonigle, as usual, closed much ground in the latter part of the race to split the winner and Eskimo at the wire. Twelve inches separated the trio scoring the spot.

Eskimo was slightly unlucky for he was pinched off on the rails by Scotia's Flag when delivering a bid on at the first bend, and had to be taken back momentarily to lose ground and speed. Neither Romany Baw nor Salinas really figured.

FAVORITE LOSES FIRST

Presumably on account of the going, Prince Dunroyal was favorite for the opener at 2/4 to 10. The Prince never looked like scoring, as Beauty Bride, relishing the going, slipped into a long lead at once to be able to stand off the rush of Frank Light by quite a length. Sun Glass 2nd could not act on the track at all.

Beau Bon was just favorite over Tuffinut for the second bout, being at 13 to 5 against the latter's 14/5 to 5. Tuffinut gave Terry his second winning ride in armchair fashion, being five or six lengths ahead passing the judges. Play Ball was prominent third throughout and then quit. Lady Caroline was going well at the finish.

Filisome always held sway in the third, though it required all of DuPre's strength to keep the filly straight nearing the finish. She was, practically at the end of her tether and Iron Worker was closing fast. Green Hill finished third for the winner's side for five eights, but faltered in the home stretch.

RED VAMP SCORES

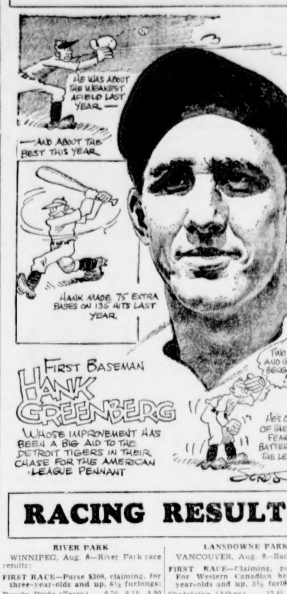

With the footing made to order, Red Vamp was an 8/5 to 5 market choice in the fourth sprint. Under Chatelaine's handling, he had a six-teenth marathon, went to Fair Mole in easy fashion. Amsterdam Spanish Light ran "right into the ground" duelling for the lead for fully seven and a half furlongs. At this point the early efforts took their toll and Fair Mole was rushed up to catch Spanish Light under the tie straight and go on to score comfortably. St. Carl closed ground to take third place. Amsterdam might have been in contention to the end, but that Spanish Light bore in on the back stretch and forced him to take up. He could never get moving properly afterwards and may have been eased a little near the end.

SILENT ROGUE WINS

After three being a double as to whether Manx Jester, or the Lass of Silent Rogue would wind up favorite, some last minute investments on the Rogue levered him to the top. Collins got Silent Rogue racing sooner than is his wont and Manx Jester could never pass him, try as he would. The interest was practically confined to the ultimate first and second and it was not until in the straight that the issue was beyond doubt. The winner was going away passing the judges. Perfect Knight was momentarily in front at the half, but Silent Rogue held third position at all stages. Axle Lass could never get into contention anywhere.

The rain last night re-started in earnest and it looks like a real heavy racing strip for Wednesday.

SEEDED PLAYER LOSES IN MEET

BROOKLYN, Mass., Aug. 8.—Robert "Lefty" Bryan, aggressive slugger from Chattanooga, Tenn., Tuesday saved the third round Longwood Bowl tennis play from being a cull-and-dried affair by wearing out the seventh seeded Henry Prusoff of Seattle, in a stubbornly contested three-hour match.

Bryan qualified for the quarter-finals with a 6-4, 4-6, 2-6, 11-9, 6-2 victory.

The top-seeded Wilmer Allison, who won this historic tennis trophy back in 1928, beat John McDiarmid of Fort Worth, Tex., 6-2, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Bryan "Bitsy" Grant of Atlanta, seeded second, had the upper hand over Edward Fuller of Salem, as he rounded out a 6-2, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4 victory.

DEAN IS MAKING GOOD HIS BOAST

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

Whether or not Dizzy Dean's prediction that he and his brother Paul would win 30 games for the 30 Cardinals this season and pitch them right into the National League pennant is fulfilled, it seems that the voluble Jerome Herman Dean is to be the pitcher of the 1934 season.

Dean became the first major league flinger of the season to win 20 games yesterday when he shut out the last-place Reds 2-0 in the first game of a doubleheader. And since he has reached that mark in his games for his club, he appears to have a good chance of taking 10 more out of the remaining 49.

Cows which freshen in November are higher producers than those freshening in June.

KY LAFFOON LEADS FIELD GOLF STARS

Denver Pro Cards 68 For Leadership in Hagen Memorial Meet

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Aug. 8.—Unperturbed by a dozen rounds of par o. better, Ky Laffoon of Denver cracked out a 68 over the east course at Oak Hill Tuesday to lead a crack international field in the first round of the 72-hole medal-play sectional Walter Hagen memorial open tournament.

A youthful Toronto veteran, Gordon Taylor, Jr., left the amateurs with 70, one under card-figures. Andy Kay, former Toronto professional of Niagara Falls, Ont., shot 74, while Roy Mauliffe of Fort Erie, Ont., needed 78.

Right behind the pace-making Laffoon came Tom Newlove of Syracuse, who scored a 69.

Bracketed at 70 with Taylor was Leo Diegel of Philadelphia.

Eight were bracketed at even par. The home professional, Charley McKenna, banged out a 35-36—71 Tuesday. Also at par were Jock Mitchell, Syracuse; Vincent Eldred, Pittsburgh; Harry Cooper, Chicago; Al Houghton, Washington; Gene Sarazen, New York; George von Elm, New York, were the others grouped at 71.

Walter Hagen, in whose honor the tourney is being held, had a 72.

JAVELIN TOSS WINNER IS LAD OF ADVENTURE

Pacific Coast Soldier of Fortune is Youthful Bobby Dixon

VANCOUVER, Aug. 8.—A curly-haired young westerner, star athlete and soldier of fortune, who has crowded into his 25 years enough glamor to make the eyes of small boys the nation over round with envy, wrested added laurels Tuesday to his remarkable career Tuesday.

When Robert "Bob" Dixon, native of Prince Rupert, won the javelin throw at the British Empire Games at Empire Stadium he realized an ambition born four years ago in the locker rooms of a Vancouver school.

PREDICTED VICTORY

Back from a roaming, adventure-seeking trip to China, Japan, Hawaii and the South Seas, young Bob forgot his restlessness long enough to confide he would one day win a championship. He proved it Tuesday and set about making good his statement.

During the long, rainy winter months he built himself up with gymnasium exercises and in the spring took to the playing fields to put his theories into practice.

Most after Canadian boy knew he could be seen hurling the spear that was to bring him empire fame, then hoping to recover it for another throw.

Two years of hard, diligent practice for the 1932 Olympic Games. But Bob felt he was not ready and, instead of trying for a berth on the Canadian team, went south to study the style of the Swedish and Finnish throwers.

What he saw caused him to make drastic changes in his form and he started another two years of dreary, routine practice.

HURT THIS SPRING

A month before the 1934 British Columbia trials for the Canadian Empire Games team, he decided to cut loose in his best effort but the result was costly and almost lost him his chance to make the Canadian team. Tender muscles in his right side flared up in a pull strain and he spent a week taped up before he could start light exercises to build up his old form. Pain-racked which carried him to the empire title yesterday.

Bob is a wrestler, lacrosse, badminton and handball player. Bob has had an adventurous life and intends to keep it that way.

Leaving home in his late 'teens Bob joined up with Ralph Connor's Tso Liang's Manchurian air force where he saw active service as a mechanic and observer.

When he returns from London he intends to continue his roaming, travelling to South America where he has schemes to penetrate far into the interior, maybe joining up in one of the many revolutions in that part of the world in his search for adventure.

How They Stand In Empire Games

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Despite the bad beating she took in the water events, England actually strengthened her position Tuesday at the top of the British Empire Games aggregate points standing.

England and Canada were far out in front, the Mother Country having scored heavily in track and field, Canada in swimming.

The following Canadian Press compilation is based on the 5-3-1, 3-2-1 basis of scoring.

President Leitch Announces Plans For Next Winter

Spokane May Be Added to Circuit in 1934-35 Campaign

Northwestern Professional Hockey League will continue to operate during the 1934-35 season and the outlook for its success is highly promising, stated President Gordon B. Leitch, of Portland, during a visit to the city Tuesday.

There is every likelihood that another city will be added to bring the circuit up to six teams, the president said, and this will be on the American side of the line. When asked, he did not deny that Spokane was the probable new entry. Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, Portland and Seattle comprise the league at present.

CONFERS WITH KEATS

Mr. Leitch spent most of Tuesday in conference with "Duke" Keats, owner of the local franchise in the Northwestern loop, as well as spending considerable time in interviewing other parties here.

The president is highly optimistic over the future success of the league. While some of the clubs did none too well financially last winter, he believes the toughest year is now behind and that there will be greater attendances in all centres next season.

DISCOUNTS SEMI-PRO LOOP

He discounts the possibility of a semi-professional or outright pro league operating with two teams here and two in Calgary, stating that the owners are determined to remain in the organized Northwest loop.

The Portland chieftain of the league was not here on any actual business but merely getting a line-up on the coming year's activities and cleaning up a number of details of last season's affairs.

He left at midnight Tuesday for Calgary, where he will also confer with officials.

CANUCK GOLF MEET DRAWS YANKEE ACES

Many from Across Border Entered in Tourney Next Week

MONTREAL, Aug. 8.—A former United States amateur champion and the present Canadian champion will head a strong deputation from below the border seeking the amateur championship of Canada when play opens at Laval-sur-le-Lac Golf Club here next week.

G. H. Forster, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, today announced that Jesse P. Guilford, holder of the United States National title in 1925, will head a squad of 20 golfers from the Boston district.

Fern Seattle is coming Albert "Scotty" Campbell who won the title at Vancouver last year, defeating young Ken Black, British Columbia Amateur champion, three up and two to play in the 36-hole final.

Black will be here, seeking the honors he lost to Campbell by one last year. On Monday he will be a member of the British Columbia squad which will defend the Wittington trophy, emblem of interprovincial Golf team supremacy. Last year Black, with Stan Leonard and Jack Frazer of Vancouver and Alan Taylor, Victoria, defeated Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta in the four-man team competition, over the 36-hole medal route.

AGREEMENT BY FRANCE, ITALY IS NECESSARY

London Authority Gives View on Archduke Otto Reports

LONDON, Aug. 8.—A close observer who is in a position to know the trend of international political thought declared last night the assumption of the throne by the Archduke Otto would be impossible without a Franco-Italian understanding.

"Otto will not make any matrimonial or political alliance with any princess in Italy, unless and until he is sure the way is paved to an Austrian, a Hungarian or a combined throne," predicted this informant.

Immediate restoration in either country he looked upon as impossible, adding, "but it is in the realm of future possibility if France can be made to see eye to eye with the Italians.

"At present the French do not. What France will have to be convinced of is whether a new Austro-Hungarian empire with Franco-Italian support would be an effective and permanent barrier to Germany's possible encroachment to the south and southeast.

"Once France was swung over, the little entente likely would approve."

VON PAPEN IS OFFICIALLY IN AUSTRIA POST

Announcement Made at Same Time of Drive to Stamp Out Nazis

VIENNA, Aug. 8 — Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg announced last night the government's agreement to Vice-Chancellor Franz Von Papen of Germany as special envoy to Vienna, at the same time taking powerful new measures to end Nazi propaganda in Austria.

A government communique announced Von Papen's acceptance revealed at the same time the granting of sweeping powers to Major Emil Fey, minister of the interior.

NAZI POWERS

In his capacity of special commissioner for security matters, Fey is charged with snuffing out Nazi influence.

Although it was understood no conditions were attached to the acceptance, it was generally believed here the length of his residence as special envoy will depend more upon the future actions of the German government than upon anything Von Papen can do in Austria.

DRASTIC STEPS

Under the new decree announced Tuesday, Major Fey can order dismissal of private employes held to be guilty of spreading Nazi propaganda and the government "Patriotic" persons will be given jobs thus vacated. The new government thus has gone a step further than the Dollfuss regime ever ventured in efforts to wipe out Nazi influence.

Milk Purchase By Government Is Criticized

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Aug. 8.—Government institutions here, which buy milk at six cents crossed quart, were charged with mass buying practices as the local government board completed the first day of its inquiry into production and distribution of milk, at the city hall, Tuesday afternoon.

Thomas Watson, former president of the Saskatchewan Dairy Association, said these institutions—federal and provincial prisons sanitorium and hospitals—should pay a fair price with no allowance for quantity purchases.

The youthful heiress is shown at upper right.

Physicians Named For Rich Lunatic Get Princely Fee

Connecticut Medic to Receive $30,000 Yearly —Psychiatrist Retained for $500 Monthly—Private Practice

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Aug. 8.—Dr. Ernest F. Russell of Connecticut, Tuesday was appointed resident physician for Stanley McCormick, millionaire Montecito incompetent, by Superior Judge A. B. Bigler.

Dr. Russell succeeds to the position held for three and a half years by Dr. B. L. Richards, who died here a few months ago.

Dr. Russell will be paid $30,000 per year and was granted the right to carry on a limited private practice in Santa Barbara as long as it does not "interfere with his duties to Stanley McCormick."

The majority of the board of guardians of the wealthy incompetent, who is a member of the prominent Harvester family, approved the appointment, but it was opposed by Mrs. McCormick and Dr. Walter S. Franklin of Santa Barbara, both of whom are members of the board.

The court, on petition of the guardians, also ordered that Dr. C. Macfie Campbell, professor of psychiatry at Harvard university, be continued as supervising psychiatrist for McCormick for one year at a salary of $500 per month plus $250 per day while he is absent from his home or institution in California or elsewhere regarding the case.

Dr. Milton B. Lennon, Dr. W. W. Boardman and Dr. Glenn Myers were ordered continued as consultants and to be paid $500 per visit. When any one of the three should be required to serve as relief resident physician the order provides payment of $1,500 weekly.

AID PROMISED DROUGHT AREA BY ROOSEVELT

Passes Through Dust of Dakotas on Way to Washington

ENROUTE WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—President Roosevelt crossed the seared plains of the United States northwest last night with a message of hope that the government would do everything possible to counteract the heretofore unsoluble problem of drought.

Making no promises, the president frankly told a dust-laden crowd at Devils Lake, N.D., this morning that he did not know the solution but he gave assurance amid cheers and feeling "I will not give up until I can give my good service to solving the problem of North Dakota."

Smiling faces looked hopefully at the president as he left his special train there to motor through clouds of dust about the receding shores of Devils Lake. He promised an early conference to review studies for diversion of the Missouri river to revive this lake and region.

SERGT. BOWEN WINS CASH ON RIFLE RANGES

Alberta Girl School Teacher Bucks Elements at Ontario Shoot

LONG BRANCH, Ont., Aug. 8.—Climaxing a day of exacting shooting, six marksmen handed in scores here of 117 to tie for leadership in the City of Toronto match at the 60th annual meeting of the Ontario Rifle Association.

The high-scoring of marksmen will shoot off later in the week for first money and the City of Toronto gold medal.

It will be a battle between Toronto and Hamilton as to where the gold medal shall rest for the ensuing year, three marksmen, Lieut. Col. C. W. G. Gibson, C.Q.M.S. H. C. Hawes, Sgt. J. Freeborn, all hailing from Hamilton and S.M. R. Kidde, Sgt. J. Borland and Lieut. T. Vamplew, representing Toronto.

Cpl. M. Miller of the Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, was successful in his bid for the major award in the Duke and Duchess of York match.

In second place, Sgt. J. A. Bowen of Edmonton and Sgt. F. Wallace of Toronto, also had scores of 69, but they had to be satisfied with a division of money as their placement of shots on the longer range were not as good as those scored by the winner.

Miss Bernice Marsh, 23-year-old Alberta school teacher found the elements much to her disadvantage at the longer distance and tallied 29, which with a perfect 35 at 200 yards, gave her 64.

SPANISH COUP PLANS BARED BY NEWSPAPER

Government Warned To Take Necessary Precautions Quickly

MADRID, Aug. 8—Rumors that Spanish socialists are planning a revolutionary coup were crystalized Tuesday by a Rightist evening newspaper which published what it declared were details of an uprising scheduled to take place between August 15 and August 20.

Warning the government to take necessary precautions, the newspaper declared that the socialists are waiting the psychological moment to seize power and establish a dictatorship. A list of members allegedly designated for the cabinet was included in the accounts.

The socialist program was given as including abolition of private property, government control of all industry, dissolution of the religious orders, the right of free love, and elimination of the provincial boundaries.

The publication of these charges followed persistent reports that the socialists have been secretly importing arms and military uniforms

HUEY LONG IN COURT WINNER

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 8—The Long-Walmsley "war" settled down to a seige Tuesday after court action had failed to demobilize the National guardsmen called out at the request of Senator Huey P. Long a week ago to seize the voters' registration books.

Long's troopers remained in possession of the registrar's office with Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley's special policemen holding the fort in the city hall across the street. The end of the seige appeared indefinite as court action was postponed until next week.

Meantime, Senator Long and his adjutant general, Raymond Fleming, had dropped out of public sight.

The first products to be dealt with under the scheme will be apples and pears, the Globe says.

The first step in launching the scheme will be the designation of a minister to take charge and it is expected Hon. Robert Weir, minister of agriculture, will start the task at once. PLAYING FOR TOP SCORE

A good pair in duplicate matches playing carefully, always obtain good scores, but they may seldom if ever, obtain top scores. These are awarded to the pair walking away with top scores on one or two hands upon which other good players tied scores.

Net point scores are now seldom used. Match point scores are in general use. The pair obtaining the highest net point score on a hand is awarded 1 point for each pair sitting the same way of the table which it beats.

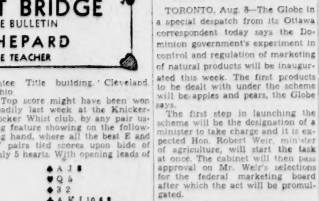

Suppose you play against 12 other N and S pairs. On a particular hand your score is higher than the scores of the other 12 pairs. Your match point score is 1. If you tie with another pair for top score on a hand, each of the two lying pairs receives 1½ match points.

Often scores are very close. Three weeks ago I won a top score of 62½ points. The nearest pairs had scores of 62, 61½ and 61 points, respectively.

To make the game more realistic hand 1 has neither side vulnerable, hand 2 only N and S players are vulnerable, hand 3 only E and W players are vulnerable. Each later series of 4 hands considers player vulnerable or not vulnerable in the same rotation.

The law of duplicate bridge, also social bridge (privot or progressive) may be obtained for 50 cents, from the American Bridge League, Guarantee Title building, Cleveland Ohio.

Top score might have been won readily last week at the Knickerbocker Whist club, by any pair using feature showing on the following hand, where all the best E and W pairs tied scores upon holding only 5 hearts. With opening leads of a club a grand slam may be made. An opening lead of a spade will hold the score to a small slam.

Bidding went: East, 1-diamond. West, 2-no trumps. North, 3-clubs, should have been 6-clubs, to allow West to bid 6-hearts or 7-hearts, as deemed best. He should have bid 6hearts).

During the depression many players of rubber contract, for stakes, have turned to duplicate games turned to jewel points, with a small fixed stake for the evening. The stake to be divided 3 parts to the biggest winner of the session and 1 part for the second-highest score.
